Antioch crowns its royalty

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

The 1992 Miss Antioch and Little Miss Antioch Pageants are over and two new successors received their crowns during Centennial week.

Named to the 1992 Miss Antioch crown

'I was in shock when I heard I won. I thought it was a mistake.'

—Christy Clark

was 16-year-old Christy Clark and the Little Miss winner was 7-year-old Kari Hintz. The two winners will reign for one year and as part of their duties, will represent the Village at many civic affairs.

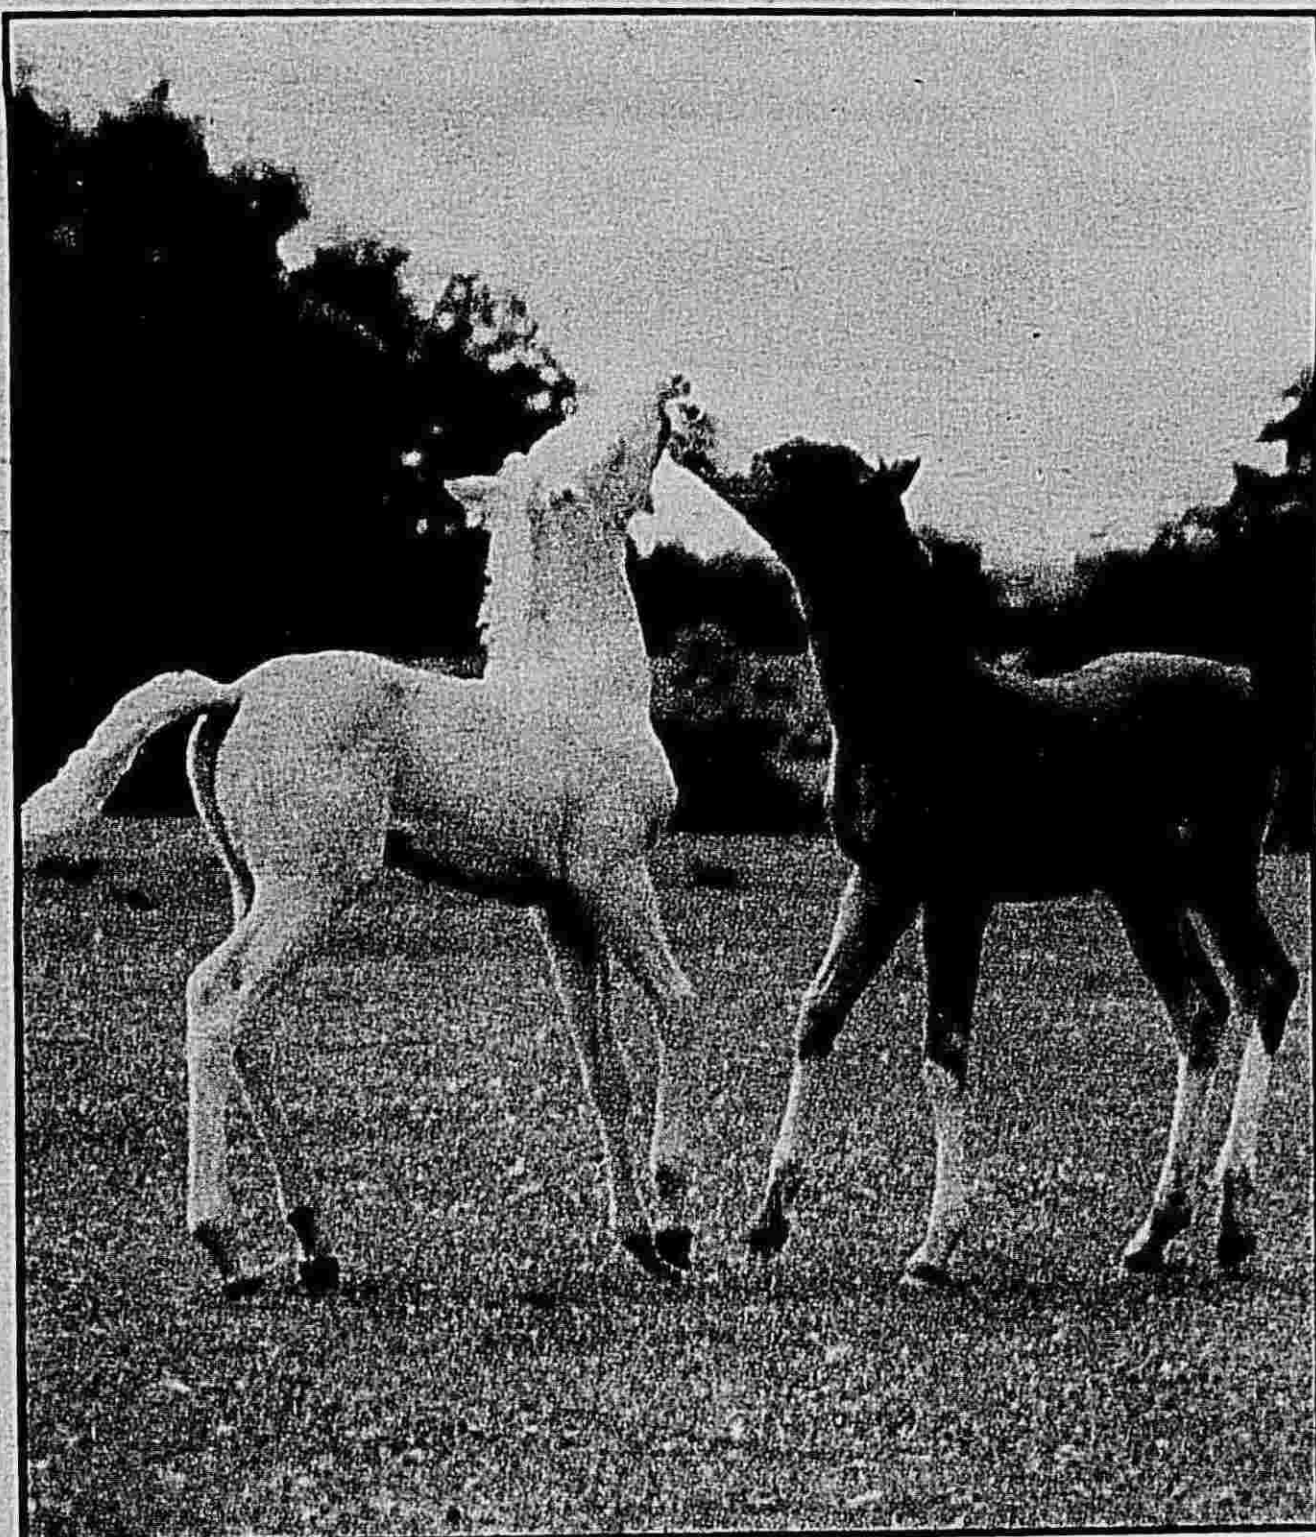

Clark, an ACHS sophomore, wants to attend the University of Illinois in Champaign/Urbana and major in broadcasting with the hopes of becoming a radio disc jockey.

"I was in shock when I heard I won," said Clark. "I thought it was a mistake."

Clark, who has already represented the Village at some of the Centennial events, said being named Miss Antioch during the Centennial year is really special.

Centennial year is huge success

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

With the Centennial week now past us, Antioch can take a breath and reflect on the events of this fast paced 100th birthday year.

Since the celebration began on Feb. 29 with the official Centennial Birthday Party and continuing with the building of the Centennial Playground in May and the Centennial week on June 27, Antioch (Continued on page 10)

Record crowd comes for fireworks on lake

FOX LAKE — Pete Jakstas Sr. is calling July 3 a "phenomenal Friday" after a record number of people converged to watch the fireworks display over Fox Lake. "It was the largest turnout of people I have ever seen," said Jakstas, who engineered his 10th fireworks show from Minneola Marine. Jakstas said the average number of boats on area bodies of water for the show ballooned from 2,500-3,000 to over 5,000.

Tragic crash kills Wadsworth youth

WADSWORTH—A youth with a promising singing career died in a Rte. 41 accident near Wadsworth early Saturday morning. Dennis Reich, age 17, was riding in a car which flipped out of control. Reich was pronounced dead at St. Therese Medical Center eight hours later. Reich was looking forward to his last year at Warren Twp. High School, completing a four-year career with the Folksingers. A funeral mass was held Wednesday at Gurnee Community Church. Reich and his friends were coming home from a fireworks show in Milwaukee.

Largest rodeo in state in Wauconda

WAUCONDA — What is called the largest rodeo in Illinois is coming to Wauconda for the 29th year July 10-12. The rodeo gives people a chance to see famous cowboys and cowgirls from all over the nation without traveling out West. Events include calf roping, bull riding, barrel racing, bareback bronco riding, saddle bronco, and steer wrestling. There will also be a sheep riding event for children ages 7 and under. The Wauconda Rodeo will be held at the Wauconda Rodeo Grounds on Route 12, one mile south of Route 120. The rodeo begins at 8 p.m. on July 10 and 11 and 3 p.m. on Sunday. For tickets or more information call the Rodeo Hotline at (800) 640-5524.

Police usher group from theme park

GURNEE—Gurnee and Lake County Sheriff's Dept. authorities were called to help escort alleged gang members out of Six Flags Great America theme park. The incident occurred about 5 p.m. July 4. Gurnee Police Chief John Ward said the Sheriff's Dept. was called in to avoid a more serious incident in a crowded theme park on a holiday weekend.

Annual Gospel Fest slated for July 10

NORTH CHICAGO — Mayor Bobby E. Thompson and the BET Express will present the annual Outdoor Gospel Fest Friday, July 10 from 7 until 10 p.m. in the city hall parking lot between the Foss Park Youth Center and the police station. Admission is free, and the entertainment will include music by Lake County's Inner Peace, Cecil Holden and the Holdeneers, Three Deep, Love Always and various choirs from Chicagoland. If it rains, the festival will be held at North Chicago High School.

LaPlante earns CLC scholarship

ANTIOCH—Gina M. LaPlante is the recipient of the State Bank of Antioch's third annual scholarship award through the College of Lake County Foundation, announced State Bank Executive Vice President Roger V. Manderschied. LaPlante graduated from Antioch Community High School in May with a 4.491 G.P.A. on a 5.0 scale. Previous scholarship winners were Ken Mattson in 1990, and Jolene May in 1991. In 1990, Bank President Randolph S. Miles and the State Bank Board of Directors initiated the donation of $20,000 to the CLS Foundation to fund the annual two-year scholarship, which includes full tuition and books.

Explosion takes part of man's hand

INGLESIDE — A 24-year-old Ingleside man lost three fingers and the thumb on his left hand in an explosion at an Oakland Drive home near Long Lake July 4. Robert Gaylor reportedly was fashioning his own fireworks when the device exploded at around 10 p.m. Flight for Life McHenry was summoned to airlift Gaylor to Milwaukee County Medical Complex, where he was listed in satisfactory condition as of Tuesday. A neighbor reportedly found one of Gaylor's fingers on a sidewalk 300 feet from the site of the explosion the next day. Gaylor was packing a mortar-like device with gunpowder and cotton.

3 towns may unite to control land use

LINCOLNSHIRE—Mettawa Mayor Julius Abler is exhorting Lincolnshire and Lake Forest officials to join him in keeping the Route 60/Interstate 94 area green. To protect the area from development that would harm the area's esthetics and environment, Abler is pushing a plan under which the three towns would form a joint panel to draw up shared values and standards for land development. Such a united front would prevent a developer from playing one community off another, shopping around for the most lenient zoning or cheapest tax deal. The Mettawa Village Board last month officially supported forming such a board. Lincolnshire and Lake Forest boards could join later this month.

One proposed development in particular lies in the gunsight of Abler's plan, many involved said: The planned 500-acre site of W.W. Grainger Inc., an industrial goods distributor, on Route 60 between Riverwoods and St. Mary's roads.

Seek pair in heist at Gurnee bank

GURNEE—Gurnee police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation continue to investigate leads following a bank robbery in Gurnee. Gurnee Police received a 911 call at the First Federal Bank of Gurnee at about 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. Two black male suspects are being sought. The suspects dropped some $5,000 in loose bills as they made their get-away. No one was injured.

Antioch youth wins silver medal at finals

ANTIOCH—Despite only participating in Tae Kwon Do for 13 months, an Antioch 12 year-old has taken his weight class by storm and won a silver medal at the United States Junior Olympic Tae Kwon Do Championships in Orlando, Fla. on Independence Day weekend. Antioch native Tim Walker, who is 4 foot 10 inches and weighs 77 pounds, lost 3 to 2 in the gold medal match to a much more experienced fighter, but received a silver medal for his efforts. "There were 2,920 participants competing in the championships," said Walker's Tae Kwon Do instructor John Seiber. "He did real well for his first time in a national competition."

Off to work

I am upset with the job situation. Now, every place you have to be at least 16 to work. No 15-year-olds can find a job. It is ridiculous.

Fresh air and gravel trucks

Yeah, I appreciate this opportunity. I am a long time resident of Lake County and the thing that really bugs me is that once upon a time, not too many years ago, we had fresh air in Lake County. Now, when you are driving along, there are innumerable gravel trucks, that you happen to get behind. They are spitting out clouds of black smoke, or whatever you want to call it, which is not exactly palatable and what can we do about it? I don't know. I mean, I just don't understand this. There is a lot of development work going on in Lake County and I can understand that this requires these gravel trucks to operate. And I am not against people making a living. But, why can't something be done to at least minimize these clouds of black smoke that comes out of the exhaust of these gravel trucks? I have one other pet peeve... the excessive speed of many of our drivers who haven't the patience to wait for a light to change and will cut in front of you and there doesn't seem to be any respect for the other guys anymore. Maybe it is because I am getting older, but I think that we should learn a little more about courtesy and giving the other guy a break. Thank you for letting me express myself, I do appreciate it.

On the way to the Majors

Hi I want to say congratulations to Brian Murphy for making all-stars on his Little League team.

Why can't they play?

This is to the Channel Lake Crybabies. It is amazing how four young boys who are non-drinkers or dopers can't enjoy themselves. These boys have a band and every time that they practice, on private property mind you, some crybaby calls the police. They practice way before 9 p.m., so not to disturb people. I guess the crybabies of Channel Lake think that the Lake County Police have nothing better to do than to come and tell these boys to please keep quiet. Because, evidently, the neighbors don't like them. If they were drunks or dope-addicts driving around or partying, the Channel Lake Crybabies would think that that was okay. Give the kids a chance. Let them grow up decent.

Beautiful music

I just watched the Round Lake beauty pageant. The music is so loud that you can't hear the contestants when they are talking. Why is there such loud music?

Human Rights

Yes. I am a heterosexual and I sure do not believe that gay rights are every person's obligation.

Volunteers dedicated to Avon youth

I am calling in regards to the Lipservice ad "Round Lake should unify." That part really doesn't bother me, but the part about speaking out against Avon Township Youth Baseball bothers me. I have been a member of the organization for about 15 years and on the coaching end for about seven. If these people would bother to ask questions to the board members that they have elected, they would understand why the $5 was taken. It is not charged to be a volunteer, it is taken so while they are on the field, volunteering their time to the children, they are covered for insurance purposes in case something happens. Now, if these people would bother going up and asking someone what is going on instead of sitting back and complaining about it, they might know what is going on. As far as the rest of the article goes, it says that the coaches are expected to 'be grounds keepers, concession workers and everything else.' Well, when you have a volunteer organization like this, who do they expect to do the work? That is why we have volunteers to do the work. We only charge $40 for sign up and we have an early bird sign up. We have the cheapest organization in the area for your children to play baseball all summer. Anytime we will answer the questions. Find us at the baseball field, because we are there every single day. And we are not getting paid either, that is how the organization works. Thank you.

Churchill's conflicts

Hi, I am from Lake Villa and it is interesting to note that

Mr. Robert Churchill has been cleared of all charges of conflict of interest. Once again, a lawyer was investigated by a bunch of lawyers and was let off on a technicality. Okay, Churchill might have been innocent on a technicality, but he certainly violated the spirit of the law in his conflict of interest case. Congratulations, Mr. Churchill, you snuck another one by us.

Dems stay on ballot despite GOP protests

Democrats 3, Republicans 0. That's the score to challenges filed against Democratic candidates on the November ballot filed by the Republican party.

Two more challenges were dismissed this week by the Lake County Electoral Board.

Dismissed were complaints against two Democratic candidates for state representative.

Remaining on the ballot are Grant Farrell of Antioch, candidate in the 62nd Dist. and Michael Corn of Gurnee in the 61st Dist.

In November Corn will face Republican nominee Andrea Moore of Libertyville and Farrell will meet incumbent Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa). Churchill is also county Republican party chairman.

At a July 6 hearing there was only a brief attempt to argue against Farrell's candidacy before both complaints were dismissed. Corn was not heard.

The challenge was based on the point that a party caucus in May was not held in the district where the candidates are running. Either party is allowed to select candidates by caucus for uncontested offices in the primary, which was held in March.

The Illinois House Republican Election Committee filed the objections. A private investigator was hired to probe the two Democrats and nominating process.

Churchill holds a leadership position in the House of Representatives and is in a position to engineer this type of activity, Link said.

"Our party has long maintained the voters have a right to decide who represents them, not the Republican hierarchy," said Terry Link, Lake County Democratic Party chairman. "Voters have a right to intelligent debate on the issues affecting Lake County. Without Democratic candidates they would be robbed of that opportunity."

"Republicans should accept defeat and concentrate on issues affecting the voters," Link added. Democrats have challenged Republican opponents to debates in all contested race on the ballot.

Until now the Republicans have not responded. "Now, with these challenges out of the way, maybe they will have to reply," Link said.

Last month the Election Board dismissed a Republican challenge to the candidacy of Dr. James Brophy of Ingleside. A Republican precinct committeeman, he is running as the Democratic candidate for coroner in the November election.

Private wells should be tested for sulfur

A rotten-egg smell in residents' wellwater is probably more irritating than dangerous. But the presence of hydrogen sulfide that the odor indicates could pose a health risk. So private well-users should have their water tested at least once a year, county officials say. Officials at the Lake County Health Department will test samples for $10.

Hydrogen sulfide, commonly called sulfur, is often found in shallow, residential-type wells. The compound can have a laxative effect but is only dangerous if ingested in large quantities.

For more information, residents can call 360-6700.

Avon board splits on Geary lawsuit

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

Avon Twp. trustees will meet next week in hopes of deciding whether to continue their 2-1/2-year-old legal action against former Supv. Norman Geary.

The lawsuit will take up most of the Monday, July 13, agenda. Routinely, township meetings take up less than one-half hour.

Board members met in special session July 2 for the specific purpose of considering the lawsuit. "We came to a stalemate," Supv. Russell Christian said of a 2-2 split by the board and himself.

In addition to him, board members at the meeting were Don Bauer, William Donahue and Rodney "Jim" Rockenbach. The fourth trustee, Arden Babcox, widow of the late Lake County sheriff, was absent. She plans to be at next week's meeting.

The board has one month, until July 16, to appeal the latest verdict handed down in McHenry County Circuit Court June 17. On that date Judge Michael J. Sullivan dismissed the case. Last year the state appellate court in Elgin returned the case to the lower courts pending the receipt of further information.

Atty. Rudy Magna of Gurnee has consistently recommended the case be appealed. Paid $7,000 for the 2-1/2 years the case has been in the courts, Magna agreed last December to seek further legal compensation.

Geary estimates that the fees for his own attorney plus those of Magna, paid for by the township, have exceeded the amount at issue.

The township maintains Geary illegally received an extra $12,700 for serving as township trustee in 1987, 1988 and until he left office in 1987. This was in addition to his salary as township supervisor.

Geary received the dual salaries throughout his 27 years in office. Only monies for the last 2-1/2 years of his tenure are being claimed due to the statute of limitations. His predecessor was also paid in the same manner. The township supervisor serves on the township board as the fifth member.

"Three judges have ruled in my favor," Geary said. These included Judge Roland Herman last summer in McHenry County, an appellate court judge last winter in Elgin and Sullivan's decision last month in Woodstock. The case was transferred to McHenry County because of Geary's high visibility in Lake County. Here, he was chairman of the Lake County Board of Supervisors immediately prior to leaving office in April 1989.

One of the first actions of the new board in May 1989 was to begin legal action against Geary.

Geary has maintained the action was to politically harass and embarrass him.

In asking for dismissal of the lawsuit before Sullivan last month, Geary's attorney, Warren Fox, said much the same thing. "This suit was brought facetiously, is repetitious, oppressive, politically motivated, mean spirited, vindictive and a terrible example of a governmental body oppressing an individual who has served his community honorable."

"There is absolutely nothing wrong with receiving more than one salary," Geary said, "just as long as it is not raised during the person's term of office." In his case, the salaries were approved in advance of each four-year term.

For example, Warren Twp. Supv. Robert Depke receives six salaries, Geary said. These are for serving as supervisor, township treasurer, member of the Lake County Board, chairman of the Lake County Board, county liquor commissioner and member of the Forest Preserve Dist. board.

Even with his salary as supervisor and township trustee, Geary said three other supervisors received more than he did in 1988-89. For that fiscal year he was paid $31,200 as supervisor and $1,400 as trustee for a total of $32,600.

Depke was paid $37,225 that year, Grant Twp. Supv. Alberta Miller earned $36,129 and Supv. F.T. "Mike" Graham of Libertyville Twp. was paid $33,587.

ACHS test drive earns tv/vcr despite low turnout

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch Community High School Sequoit Pride Booster Club's effort to bring the school needed educational items is being called a success despite the low turnout on two occasions to test drive cars for the school.

"I think it was successful because this is the first time our parent organization put together a project like this," said ACHS Assistant Principal Steve Wapon. "The program was a plus."

The Driving for Education Program, sponsored by Raymond Chevrolet in Antioch, was designed to add the total number of test drives by licensed drivers who requested that the drive count in an effort to earn audio-video equipment for the school in a nationwide Chevrolet program.

The program was designed to help high schools obtain needed Apple Computers, Magnavox audio/video equipment and Compton's Encyclopedias at no cost to the school.

"We hope to give away a couple computers and that is going to take a large number of test drives," said Raymond Chevrolet's General Manager Mark Scarpelli during the two test drive weeks allocated to ACHS in the spring.

However, since the number of test drives was not what Scarpelli or the Sequoit group had hoped for, ACHS received from Scarpelli and Raymond Chevrolet a TV/VCR combination to be used by the audio/visual department of the school.

"We will put the equipment to good use," said Wapon.

ACHS approves activity fee increases for new school year

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

In an effort to bring its nearly $1 million deficit in line, the Antioch Community High School Board has passed several fee increases and budget reductions for the 1992/93 school year.

According to ACHS Business Manager Ken Wierschem, the Board passed the recommendation of Budget Committee Chairman Glen Moore and brought next year's school budget in line by more than $650,000.

Fee increases for student parking stickers, athletic fees and for incoming and transfer students are just some of the dozen fee increases and staff budget reductions passed by the board at its June 18 meeting.

"These fee increases will help the budget fall more into line next year," said Wierschem. "It is designed to help defray costs."

Fee increases for the 1992/93 school year have been to $40 for driver education, $50 for a student parking permit, $40 per sport athletic fee with a $100 a year maximum, a $65 general fee increase for incoming freshmen and a $60 student transfer fee for new sophomores, juniors and seniors.

Numerous budget reductions, like reducing maintenance overtime and purchase of instructional equipment are other measures passed by the board to help make ends meet.

"For the first time, students will have to pay a fee to take classes like cooking or chemistry to help pay for the large amount of supplies the students use in the class," said Wierschem.

Reductions will be made in School Board travel, athletic coaches travel, elimination of 8th period study hall for freshmen students, a 25 percent reduction in instructional equipment, an elimination of intramural program expenditures and charges for certain academic classes that use a large amount of supplies in the class.

"The whole thing still needs to be fine tuned," said Wierschem. "But I think we will still see another $100,000 in cuts by the Board before next year."

Briefs

Taste of Antioch

The return of the Taste of Antioch to Taft Ave., which is being run in conjunction with Maxwell Street Days, will occur on July 23-25 when 14 of Antioch's best restaurants open booths at the taste. According to Frank DiMarco, the Taste of Antioch coordinator, there will be more food and more entertainment at this year's event. T-shirts are on sale at the chamber and proceeds go to funding other chamber activities throughout the year.

Pageant

"It's exciting," said Clark. "Its excitement is doubled because this is the Centennial year."

Clark entered the contest because her sister, Mandy, was Little Miss Antioch last year and her mother, Pam, was so happy Mandy won.

"I just couldn't let the tradition break without trying," said Clark. "Now my mother is so happy that I won."

Clark, who says that her sudden celebrity status will not change her, notices some differences in how people treat her.

"In public, people recognize me now and whisper but I'm still going to be myself," said Clark.

Other future plans for Clark include getting married and having one child, but plans could change.

"I've known for four years what I've wanted to do, but college could change that," said Clark.

Hintz, an Antioch Lower Grade student, is the daughter of Karol and Jim Hintz.

Hintz, according to her mom, "is fun and bubbly" and loves to ride her bike and keep involved with her activities, which include swimming, soccer and ice-less hockey.

"We thought she did a wonderful job," said Karol Hintz. "She is really excited that she won."

Pageant winning is not foreign to the Hintz family either. Kari's older sister, Krista, was the 1987 Little Miss Antioch in the event's second year of existence.

"Winning twice is nice," said Karol Hintz.

Both Clark and Hintz will represent Antioch in their respective Lake County Pageants later this month when they compete against the winners of other local pageants.

"I can't wait to represent Antioch," said Clark. "This is the best community."

Added Karol Hintz, "They didn't have the Little Miss Lake County when Krista won so this is really exciting for the entire family."

Singing career a possibility for Schmehl, Not!

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(708)395-5380
Captive audience

When you read this next tidbit you may all agree it is time to lock me up and throw away the key. I have always wished I was gifted with two talents—one, the ability to draw or paint and two, the ability to sing. As you know the first wish has come true in a small way (very small I might add) as I sit creating crayon drawings for the little ones at Camp Crayon.

The second has come true in the most unusual way. One Saturday night I was watching a "Golden Girls" episode in which Dorothy (Bea Arthur) accidentally fell into a singing career. She had a delightful voice and this reminded me (Miss Tone Deaf who can't even carry a simple tune) how much I wish I had the ability to burst into song in a crowded room. I began to fantasize about taking singing lessons. I thought maybe with the proper training even I could be taught how to carry a simple melody.

Now picture this—I was home alone with my dogs Andrew and Bertha, who were sleeping soundly on the family room floor. Something made me start to sing one of our Camp Crayon songs "Skimmer a Dinky Dink" testing my vocal cords to see if there was any hope.

When I began to belt out the melody my dogs rushed to my side and began to lick and paw me. I'd like to believe they were showing their appreciation for my melodic voice. In actuality I know they were wondering if I was dying. Occasionally one must change dreams a bit. Maybe I don't have and won't ever have the type of voice that will afford me the opportunity to bust out in song in a room filled with people.

However, if I combine my dream with a career goal of becoming a veterinarian

Urusula Martens. They asked if they could play on our swing set. I told them remembered the hours spent teaching my own four children how to ride a two wheeler and the triumph they too felt when accomplishing this task.

Yes, some things never change. Congratulations Kjersten and Ursula. Keep up the good work and remember we not only have swing sets in the yard but also a pool. When the weather permits have mom call and come over and swim with us too.

Arts and crafts

Hand painted saws and saw blades, ceramics, wood toys, hand-made ornaments, stained glass creations, pottery, hand-made fishing lures, oil paintings, water color paintings, knitted or crocheted items, painted T shirts, hand-made jewelry, leather working, wood burning, country decorations, wood shelving, bird houses, doll houses, doll clothes, tin punch creations, etc. If you enjoy creating any of the above or have a specialty of your own, whether you are an amateur crafter or a professional one, call Cathy at (708)395-5857 and reserve your space in the ACHS gymnasium for the Oct. 24 First Annual Peddlers Craft Fair sponsored by the Student Assistance Program.

If you aren't talented in the area of arts and crafts surely you are talented in the area of shopping and for spending that "moola". This craft fair is just in time to purchase special, unique gift items to set aside for Christmas.

Once again the date is Saturday, Oct. 24. If you are a crafter call to reserve a spot ASAP. If you are a shopper circle that date on your calendar, as this craft fair definitely promises something of interest for everyone.

Hometown Goodies

or kennel worker, I could at least bust out singing in a crowded room of animals.

If you ever pass a kennel and hear all sorts of yelping, barking and whining, consider the fact that "The Lizard" may be singing on the job!

An accomplishment

On a recent Saturday afternoon, as I sat lounging in my house there was a knock at the door. I did not hear it but Andrew and Bertha perked up and began to bark. I glanced out the family room window and saw a small pair of legs standing in the carport. As I opened the door, I was greeted by the smiling, pleasant faces of little six-year old Kjersten Martens and five year old anytime we were out back they were welcome, but when no one was out and about we would rather not have anyone using the equipment.

They readily accepted this directive and proudly announced that they could now ride their two wheel bicycles without the training wheels. I complimented them on this wonderful accomplishment and stepping stone in their lives, reminded them to be careful on the road and encouraged them to come by to use the play equipment when we were outside.

They went cheerfully on their way, hopping on their two-wheeled vehicles. As I watched them peddle off I

Despite only participating in Tae Kwon Do for 13 months, an Antioch 12 year-old has taken his weight class by storm and won a silver medal at the United States Junior Olympic Tae Kwon Do Championships in Orlando, Fla. on Independence Day weekend.

Antioch native Tim Walker, who is 4 foot 10 inches and weighs 77 pounds, lost 3 to 2 in the gold medal match to a much more experienced fighter, but received a silver medal for his efforts.

"There were 2,920 participants competing in the championships," said Walker's Tae Kwon Do Instructor John Seiber. "He did real well for his first time in a national competition."

Walker, who regularly attends workouts at Seiber's class in the Health Systems Fitness Center in Antioch, would have earned a berth to join the Junior Olympic Team at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, Colo., but Walker is still too young for the team.

"Next year, Tim will be able to begin training at the Olympic Training Center if he does as well as he did this year," said Seiber.

According to Seiber, Walker qualified for the championships by winning 2 gold medals for his weight class in the Wisconsin and Illinois Championships.

Walker presently trains three times a week with the adult class and helps Seiber teach the fundamentals to the younger class.

"He helps out quite a lot," said Seiber.

Walker joined the Tae Kwon Do class after reading an ad about the class in a newspaper. After just one year, Walker began to show tremendous results.

"I really like it," said Walker. "I was a little nervous at first but I'm happy with my results so far."

For those who want to see Walker compete and see what Tae Kwon Do championships are like, Seiber said that ESPN will air the entire U.S. Junior Olympic Championships on Aug. 20 at 1 p.m. C.D.T.

"I'm really pleased with the way everything has turned out," said Seiber. "We are not here for the money like some other gyms. We are here to produce results."

Seiber receives his training and guidance from Grand Master Koang Woong Kim, a ninth degree blackbelt and one of only 15 Grand Masters of Tae Kwon Do in the world.

"We are so lucky to have him living in this part of the country," said Seiber. "It really helps us out because when it comes to Tae Kwon Do in the Midwest, he is it."

An ACHS science teacher received the honor of being named one of Lake County's Outstanding Science Teachers of the Year by Abbott Laboratories' chapter of Sigma Xi.

Antioch teacher Dan Mikal, of Antioch was named by the national scientific research organization as one of three Lake County science teachers who deserved special recognition.

The winning teachers were nominated by one of their students and seconded by the individual school principals.

Mikal was nominated by ACHS student Charlotte Berger and seconded by ACHS Principal Michael Radocivich.

The teachers also received a $200 savings bond from the Sigma Xi chapter and participated in a special tour of Abbott headquarters at Abbott Park on June 23.

In addition to the savings bonds, the teachers received grants to purchase laboratory supplies to be used for their schools.

Centennial

showed its true colors and community spirit as it celebrated a once in a life time event.

"The planning began over two years ago when the Village Board selected Linda Pedersen and Bill Brook as the Centennial Committee leaders," said Mayor Robert Wilton. "Everybody on the committee did a super job."

Events like the Antioch Fireman's Dance, Centennial Park dedication, a circus and the Little Miss and Miss Antioch Pageants have kept the majority of Antioch busy during the past week. Antioch crowned a new Little Miss and Miss Antioch on June 30 and July 1 respectively.

Despite weak knees from running all over town, crowds were still quite heavy during the numerous activities scheduled for the Independence Day weekend.

The calender of events continued with the climax of the week on July 5 when the nine day celebration ended in Williams Park after a full day of events there.

The Lions Club Pig Roast, which began at 11 a.m. and ended at 4 p.m., ran out of food due to the enormous showing at the park.

"There were tons of people there," Wilton. "We might try to do that every year."

Wilton suggests that there might still be other events on the horizon before the end of the year to celebrate the Centennial.

"We wanted to get through the week before talking about other events," said Wilton. "There could be more celebrating before the year is over."

'Self-defense' claim planned in murder trial

by DAN BERNARD
Lakeland Newspapers

A lawyer for a Mundelein man accused of killing his girlfriend by stabbing her 43 times says he will argue that the man believed he was acting in self-defense.

Even if a court calls the self-defense claim unreasonable, sources said the tactic could mean a much shorter jail term for Celerino Galicia-Alfaro, 23, of 1444 Downing Place. A pretrial hearing in Lake County Circuit Court is set for Aug. 12, with the trial scheduled to begin Aug. 24.

Alfaro is accused of the March 13 murder of 27-year-old Roberta Martinez. Witnesses said Alfaro stabbed Martinez to death with a kitchen knife following an argument in a stairwell in Mundelein's Whitehall Manor apartments.

But Alfaro's attorney said this week he will contend that it was Martinez who produced the knife to protect herself, in turn scaring Alfaro. Alfaro grabbed the knife and stabbed Martinez to protect himself, attorney Jed Stone of Chicago will argue.

Under recent changes in Illinois law, arguing that a murder defendant believed he acted in self-defense can reduce the charge from first-degree murder to second-degree murder, which carries a lighter maximum sentence. A first-degree murder conviction can carry a jail term of as much as 60 years to life, while second-degree carries a maximum 15 years jail term. Prosecutors have said they are not seeking the death penalty in Alfaro's case.

County prosecutor John Kornak said he would not comment on the self-defense tactic or the lab test results. "The evidence will come out at the trial," said Kornak of the Lake County State's Attorney's Office.

Stone said recently released lab tests, which he claimed show that nearly as much of the blood at the scene was Alfaro's as was Martinez', support the scenario that Alfaro acted to protect himself.

"We believe there is evidence that (Alfaro) acted in self-defense," Stone said. "He had been badly cut and bled badly, cut at the hand of that knife."

"Our defense in this case is, Ms.

Martinez was afraid of (Alfaro) and took from the kitchen a knife for her own protection," Stone said. Before the stabbing, Alfaro visited Martinez at a friend's apartment and asked her to leave the apartment to talk in a nearby stairwell, according to police reports.

"She went out into the stairwell to have a conversation with Celerino, and when the conversation took that run that she did not like, she produced the knife," Stone said. "A struggle followed, and she died."

Delays in the lab tests postponed the murder trial almost two months, attorneys said.

Alfaro has been held since his arrest at the Lake County Jail in lieu of $1 million bond.

Alleged burglar to be indicted in fatal break-in

by DAN BERNARD
Lakeland Newspapers

A Lake County grand jury was expected Wednesday to indict a man suspected in an attempted burglary in Round Lake Beach, a burglary that ended with his partner shot dead by a homeowner.

Jurors were to decide whether to charge Stevan Dragan Pavlovic, 30, of Chicago with simple attempted burglary or additional charges.

And county investigators continued to unravel the tale of the criminal underworld that may be involved with the break-in, a network of ethnic Yugoslavian Gypsies.

The two would-be burglars made a special trip to the home of a Round Lake Beach man for the attempted break-in on the night of June 11, investigators suspect. The two traveled from their home in Skokie, considered by police to be a base of operations for a regionwide underworld of Gypsies that cooperate in thefts and con jobs.

If the suspected burglars went out of their way for the Round Lake Beach job, that probably means the Gypsy criminals have no other operations in the Round Lake area, said county investigator Lt. Steven Towns-End. A residential burglary is rare for these Gypsies, said Round Lake Beach Sgt. David Ostertag.

The Round Lake Beach man's home had been burglarized a week before, and, suspecting the burglars would return, he waited with his handgun June 11.

Investigators have also established that the break-in victim, 71-year-old Jelenko Jevremovic of Round Lake Beach, had a past social connection to the man he fatally shot when the suspects tried to break in. Jevremovic, a Yugoslavian Serb, and the deceased, a Yugoslavian Gypsy sometimes known as Marko Sarino, had a longtime mutual friend who lives in the Round Lake area.

Lake County State's Attorney Michael Waller is considering whether to file criminal charges against the friend, a Serbian woman in her mid-30s.

Jevremovic was probably acquainted with the woman through the Serbian Brothers Help hall, a community lodge in unincorporated Lake Villa Township, Towns-end said. The woman's reason for knowing Sarino, the deceased, is unclear.

Pavlovic was an ethnic Serb who associated with Gypsies, police said.

What started off seeming like a simple break-in gone deadly is turning into a study in a massive criminal community, Towns-end said.

And because Pavlovic is wanted for arrest in Canada for charges including attempted murder, the break-in has "become an international situation."

"It has great magnitude," said Towns-end. State's Attorney Waller is consulting with Canadian officials about a possible deportation order by Canada that would send Pavlovic, who has no citizenship but Yugoslavian, back to Yugoslavia.

To compile information for the investigation, members of the Lake County Major Crimes Task Forces followed up on more than 100 leads in six days, Towns-end said.

The Gypsy underworld is a little-known but widespread criminal body, Towns-end said. "It's almost like a small Mafia," Towns-end said. But whereas the Mafia has centralized power, the Gypsy underworld is a less formally organized "family of families" that collaborate on crimes, Towns-end said.

Test drive chain saw before buying salesman to learn about the saw's operations and maintenance. Further, know how much time you will spend operating the saw and the type and size of wood to be cut.

When comparing different models, buyers should look for qualities that will make the saw comfortable, quiet and reliable. Features such as anti-vibration and noise dampening systems, good balance and well-designed handles will make your saw easier and safer to use.

Don't be misled by bar length. That can make very different saws seem the same. Instead, look at engine size, weight and engine speed at maximum power as the first criteria for comparison.

Some chain saws feature offer formerly found only on models designed for professional loggers.

To enhance safety, comfort, ease of use and durability, these features include:

- "Air Injection," a new power enhancement and air cleaning system;
- Solid state ignition, which eliminates the need for ignition tune-ups;
- Anti-vibration handles;
- Manual and inertia-activated chain brake;
- Steel ball-bearing supported crankshaft which contributes to a smoother running engine and higher cutting speeds;

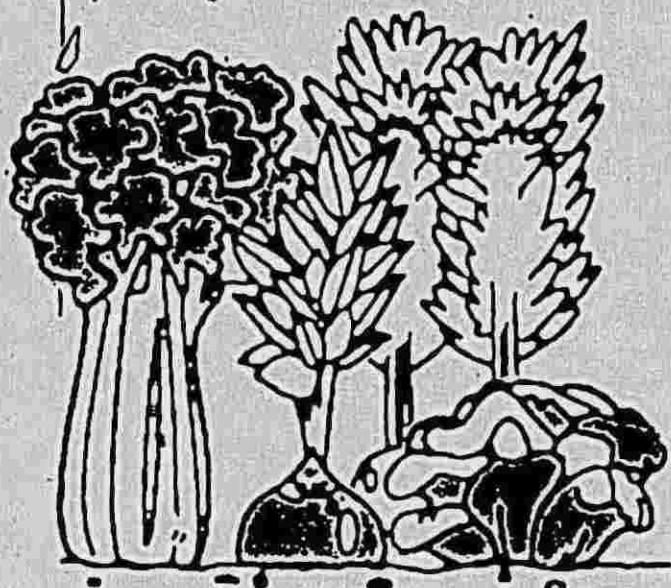

• Gear-driven automatic oiler to assure bar and chain lubrication during extended operation;

• Symmetrical bar which allows cutting on either side and can double the life of the bar and chain.

Insist that the dealer explain how the saw starts, operates and is maintained. Have him show you how to clean the air filter, mix gas and oil, add bar oil and assemble the bar and chain.

Don't be alarmed if your new saw looks like it has already done some cutting. It's just a sign that the dealer has taken the time to check the saw and made adjustments.

Weekend woodsmen and part-time Paul Bunyans ready to trade in their axes for chain saws this will do well to take the move seriously. A reliable chain saw is a great firewood cutting timesaver and has plenty of tree felling and trimming applications year round.

Experts advise, "try before you buy."

A chain saw is a sophisticated power tool. Just as you wouldn't buy a car or tractor without a test drive, you shouldn't purchase a saw without trying it out.

To make sure you get the best value buy from a reputable dealer who sells and services chain saws. Buyers should spend at least a half-hour talking with a

Strip mall justice

Lake County's newest courtroom is located in a strip mall at Rtes. 45 and 120. While cynics might view the new branch facility with a bit of dark humor, the fact remains that making the courts as accessible as possible to the greatest number of citizens is exactly the aim of judicial and public officials.

Chief Circuit Judge Charles F. Scott put the new Grayslake Branch Court in perspective: What place could be more appropriate for a peoples court than a shopping center?

Thirty-two jurisdictions are writing tickets for the new Grayslake Branch Court, which consolidates courts formerly located in Fox Lake and Wauconda, and provides facilities for the overload from courts in North Chicago and Prairie View--Antioch, College of Lake County, Illinois Dept. of Conservation, Fox Lake, Grayslake, Hainesville, Hawthorne Woods, Illinois Commerce Commission, Island Lake, Lake Barrington, Lake County Forest Preserve, Lake County Sheriff, Lake County Sheriff T.E.U., Lake County Sheriff Water Patrol, Lakemoor, Lake Villa, Lake Zurich, Lindenhurst, Long Grove, Mundelein, Mundelein Park Dist., North Barrington, Rabies Control, Riverwoods, Round Lake, Round Lake Beach, Round Lake Heights, Round Lake Park, V.A. Hospital, Water Management Agency and Wauconda.

Establishment of a regional court facility in the center of the county also speaks loudly and clearly that the County Board as presently constituted isn't reluctant to move county government out of downtown Waukegan when the occasion warrants.

That's important recognition that central and west Lake County residents have special needs. While we're on the subject, how long will it be before a mid-county branch of the County Building Dept. is established? Such a facility is needed badly and would be tremendously convenient for residents of unincorporated areas of the county.

Unnecessary bumps

Education's road is bumpy enough without school officials courting controversy. Two school district's have forgotten their primary role in squabbles over water of all things.

In a battle reminiscent of range wars over water rights in the arid west, Stevenson High School neighbors are charging that the school is drying up their private wells with a football field watering project. Stevenson officials demured, of course, kicking off an exchange of comedic proportions.

What Mother Nature has going on underground, especially during a drought cycle, is pretty hard to determine. Both sides have trotted out experts in a finger pointing exchange. To their credit, school officials are spearheading efforts to extend municipal water mains and put an end to the rhubarb. Wrangling probably will go away when the mains are completed or monsoons arrive, but the whole thing could have been avoided if the wealthy school district would have employed tank trucks to keep the gridiron in country club plush or let the athletes rough it on browned out grass--like poorer districts do.

Battling over new municipal well and water tower sitings at Lake Zurich is of longer duration and more complicated. Village and Dist. 95 officials are winding down a prolonged flap that likely will resolve legitimate claims on both sides. The siting issue was complicated by a long standing feud between Principal Jim Johnson and Mayor Jim Kay and insinuations that long-time school board member John Schweda has been using his school office as a platform for running again next year for mayor, a position he sought unsuccessfully three years ago. Keeping village politics out of the negotiations would have enabled Lake Zurich to solve the siting problems a long time ago.

Wauconda leaders learned that mixing village politics with educating children is a bad combination. Perhaps it is coincidental after five tax rate increase referendum defeats, but things have been running much smoother for the rapidly growing unit district since school officials have been concentrating on education. And they got a much needed rate increase to boot from a more understanding electorate.

What elected officials whichever unit of government they happen to represent tend to forget is that they all are working for the same boss--John Q. Public. When officialdom gets distracted by personality clashes or jurisdictional disputes, it's the taxpayers who suffer. Inter-governmental fighting is so unnecessary--and wasteful.

Letters to the Editor

School adds to costs

Editor:

Thank you to the mayor of Lake Zurich, Jim Kay, for bringing School Dist. 95 to the realization they also belong to the community as a whole.

The school district keeps adding to the cost of two new schools being built, overlooking the necessary systems and services needed for these facilities. It would have been nice if Mr. Cox and Mr. Schweda would have told the voters the truth before the referendum.

The senior citizens, childless homeowners, and the business community receive nothing from the school district for their tax money. The least Dist. 95 could do is provide the Village of Lake Zurich the right of way to build water wells and water storage tanks on their property. The savings from not buying expensive property to build these facilities would be refreshing.

Dist. 95 is great for asking and receiving more and more services from the Village of Lake Zurich. Forgetting, they are also part of this community. The district taxes all families and businesses the same, whether or not they have children.

It sure is comforting to know Mayor Jim Kay represents everyone in this community.

United Way stumbling

Editor:

I was shocked to read that the Chicago branch of United Way has decided to curtail their funding to the Boy Scouts of America effective July 1, 1993, if the Boy Scouts do not change their admission policies. This is even more incomprehensible since I'm sure that this past year's revelation has raised some questions in the minds of many people who donate their hard earned money to this nonprofit organization.

I work for the company who makes the largest contribution in Lake County to the United Way. The specific division that I work in contributes the most per person with the highest percentage of employee participation than any other division. I know of two Boy Scout leaders and countless other former Scouts like myself who will discontinue their voluntary pledge immediately if the United Way does not reconsider.

The people that I work with are not the only ones who will discontinue their support of this organization. My wife, my mother, my brother, and my close friends who also voluntarily pledge through their employers will also stop making their contributions through their pay vouchers.

It is a shame that our decision to stop funding the United Way will affect other very worthwhile endeavors that they are involved with, but I believe that we will find another avenue to contribute to these needy programs. But it is also a shame that the United Way has seen fit to stop supporting an organization that tries to train the young men of this generation in worthy character traits, leadership models, and moral strengths that will last their lifetimes.

I truly hope that the United Way reconsiders. If they do not, they are going to lose not only financial support but even more of the respect of the people who are in this community. Our respect was already damaged earlier this year and our patience is ebbing. As we approach another annual United Way contribution campaign let's remind the United Way where they get their funds from in the first place. Maybe then they'll ask our opinion in how we want our contributions dispersed. If they don't want to be reminded verbally, I'm sure their bank account will speak volumes when they are unable to pay their obligations.

Viewpoint

Society starts to gang up on gang violence

by BILL SCHROEDER

Gradually, gang awareness is seeping into the fabric of society.

One of the nation's greatest social illnesses has reached epidemic importance that has transcended questions of turf and jurisdiction. Heads are coming out of the sand and officialdom is facing up to the problem.

State's Atty. Mike Waller is one leader who has noticed the heightened awareness on the part of elected officials, law enforcement and educators. No question that awareness is greater today than a year, stated the prosecutor. Waller is looking forward to participating in a collar county effort this fall to lessen the influence of gangs.

School officials have been reluctant to accept the existence of gangs. The reason should be obvious: They're job scared. Village mayors and council members typically have been dragging their feet on the gang problem. Again for obvious reasons. Prospective residents are going to think twice about settling in a community that openly recognizes gang activity.

All Lake County residents should take pride in the yeoman service being performed by State Rep. Virginia Frederick of Lake Forest, co-sponsor of SWORD (Statewide Organized Gang Database Act), anti-gang legislation adopted by both Houses of the General Assembly that has gone by to Gov. Edgar.

State Rep. Frederick, a former teacher, has recognized the far-reaching influence of gangs. "Gangs are a state-wide problem, not one restricted to Chicago or even the suburbs. We must all be involved in the solution."

Surprisingly, up until now there has been little coordination in the effort to develop gang awareness. The battle against gangs has been fragmented. SWORD is designed to enable law enforcement officials to communicate across various jurisdictions.

In Touch, the Illinois Network to Organize the Understanding of Community Health, is another effort to break down barriers. Locally, the Lake County In Touch project is sponsored by the Lake County Health Dept., Northern Illinois Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse and College of Lake County.

Like substance abuse, combatting gangs is fruitful only when positive influences are developed to replace the behavior that led to involvement in the first place, according to Ron Jakubisin, prevention specialist with the Lake County Health Dept. who has offices at CLC. "We try to avoid one-time solutions," emphasizes Jakubisin.

Parents and concerned citizens are way ahead "of the loop" when it comes to gang awareness. It's good to see other segments of our community catching up.

'92 session a break for Illinois taxpayers

by JOHN MATIJEVECH
State Representative

It was too much to expect the Legislature to adjourn "on time" at the June 30 deadline. In all of my years, we've only done it once. The good news is that we went only two days into the new fiscal year. Last year, we haggled until July 19.

By the way, I rose to the floor on the first day of overtime to remind everyone that a repeat of last year's debacle would be irresponsible, a waste of taxpayer's monies. Finalizing the $28 billion budget and approving a hospital assessment program were the "hang-ups."

The hospitals were in a "Catch-22." They are being forced to pay an additional "tax" on patients in order to receive federal re-imbursements. The plan produces almost $735 million in revenue and will bring the same amount in federal state for Medicaid reimbursement. As a compromise, an extra $1 per bed/per day charged to nursing homes was prohibited from being passed to patients.

The hospital assessment program was a "Catch-22" for legislatures, too. If we didn't pass something, it would have left a gaping $735 million "hole" in the budget.

Commentary

By passing it, we were "taxing the ill." On the latter, I voted against it. It wasn't a courageous vote, the issue passed with no votes to spare, and everyone knew that it would.

The budget ended up with $160 million in cuts below the budget introduced by Gov. Jim Edgar in April. It was still $212 million more than House Democrats sent to the Senate a couple of weeks ago. Again, it was a compromise and a reasonable one.

For a time, I thought that I should vote against it as a symbolic gesture that it really wasn't a balanced budget. After all, we had just been informed that our general revenue fund was at about $2 million at fiscal year's end. It's supposed to be estimated at $200 - million at any given time. We are also told that the state's unpaid bills stand at $300 - plus million. We adjusted estimated revenues upward by $90 million, that's an arbitrary figure that can put the budget out of whack.

When the vote was called, I finally supported the budget. All along, I have said that we just can't spend money we don't have. The cuts are painful, but necessary. Springfield area legislators bemoaned the possibility of a loss of from 800 to 1,000 state jobs in their area. Yes, there will be job losses. But, these are difficult, recessionary times and the public sector must respond just as the private sector does when revenues are not available.

Gov. Edgar started out by "raiding" funds that would have gone to local government. He also asked for an increase in tobacco and alcohol taxes. And he proposed a variety of fees on state services or programs. The budget that was passed imposed none of his tax or fee increases. To that end, I believe that we were responsive to the people's demands that we hold the line on taxes.

All in all, the legislative sessions was one that "held the line" on almost everything. Given the fiscal problems, there were no new and costly programs pushed by legislators. The volume of bills finally passed by both house was significantly lower than past "off-year" sessions.

The budget crunch and the fact that there is an election coming up may have caused that. Whatever, it's good news for the taxpayers!

Editors note: Rep Matijevich is a quarter century veteran of the Illinois General Assembly. He writes regularly about legislature affairs.

Letters

recent House vote lifting a ban on fetal tissue transplantation was a referendum on abortion. It was not. Rather, it was a vote to end a misguided policy that has blocked vital research into cures for diabetes, Parkinson's and Alzheimer's disease, and other life-threatening afflictions.

The use of human fetal tissue raises important ethical concerns, and this bill contains comprehensive safeguards to ensure that it does not encourage abortion. The decision to donate fetal tissue must be made after, and completely separate from, the decision to have an abortion. No one may sell or purchase fetal tissue. Women cannot direct the tissue to a specific donor or even know the identity of the eventual recipient.

Significantly, a panel of conservative medical and legal experts appointed by President Reagan and headed by pro-life Judge Arlin Adams supported this research, which it concluded has the potential to save tens of thousands of lives and end human suffering. Even President Reagan's Secretary of Health and Human Services, Dr. Otis Bowen, who is strongly pro-life, recently emerged from private life to argue that the ban should be lifted. He emphasized the Adams panel finding that "the research would not encourage abortions, a critical point for those of us in the medical community who are pro-life and pro-research."

How sad that Mrs. Quirke ignores responsible voices in the pro-life community and blindly opposes research that holds out hope for millions of Americans who suffer from potentially curable diseases.

Racism undercuts nation

Editor:

As a member of the Baha'i Faith that I wish to write regarding America's most challenging issue. In view of the recent turbulence in our cities it is evident that each American can no longer ignore "the tragedy relentlessly unfolding in our cities."

In an open letter to President Bush, the elected governing body of the Baha'is of the United States has issued a call to eliminate racism. Unless we learn to address the causes rather than the symptoms of racism, it will continue to be a "disease eating at the vitals of American society, a "disease that has plagued our country ever since slaves were brought from Africa to these shores..."

Since the solution to the problem of racism is not going to be simple, it will take nothing less than a concerted effort on the part of all Americans. Not only will the issues of economic security and elimination of poverty need to be resolved, but also the spiritual recognition of the equality and dignity of all human beings whatever their color or ethnic background, must be attained.

Racism continues to be a blight upon our nation. It is "one of the most baneful and persistent evils" and "is a major barrier to peace." Our world is in a state of upheaval and imbalance. Only when hearts and minds can connect on an equal basis by accepting that the heart of man is more significant than his color, can we truly hope to make this world the one we want for our children.

Depke gets six paydays a month

SIX PAYCHECKS!

Someone called our new Lipservice line last week asking about how rich Robert Depke is getting as chairman of the County Board.

They expressed disbelief he is drawing six salaries. Yes, six!

Paychecks are for serving as County Board chairman ($11,250), another for being an elected member of the County Board ($23,000), chairman of the county Liquor Commission by virtue of his board chairmanship ($8,750), member of the Forest Preserve board ($20 meeting, 26-cents mile), Warren Twp. supervisor ($45,168) and township treasurer ($1,000).

What does this add up for a year? Almost $95,000!

Nice work if you can get it.

POLITICS OR ???

An attorney called last week to comment on Avon Twp.'s running legal battle with former Supv. Norman Geary.

Rudy Magna of Gurnee is the township attorney. He has been paid $7,000 in an unsuccessful attempt to collect $12,700 the township claims Geary was paid illegally. The meter stopped running for Magna last winter. He's now working for free.

Between Magna's township-paid fee and Geary's out-of-pocket expenses, more has been spent for legal fees than the amount at issue.

Three court decisions have gone against the township. Each time Magna says the township should appeal, appeal. The township board will meet July 13 to decide.

The attorney who called me said instead of promoting litigation, Magna should counsel. "Doing otherwise makes him seem like an ambulance chaser," my caller said.

Geary sees it differently: "It's politics designed to harass and embarrass me."

Why? Geary rejected a 1987 request by then state's Atty. Fred Foreman to name Magna as a special $30,000-a-year counsel on zoning matters. Geary also did not reappoint Magna's father, Rudy Sr., as chairman of the Lake County Board of Appeals in 1987 and tossed him off the Round Lake Sanitary Dist. Board. Rudy Jr. is legal counsel for that body, which has not processed a drop of effluent in 10 years.

Geary's attorney, Warren Fox, calls it another way. "The suit was brought facetiously, is repetitious, oppressive, politically motivated, mean spirited, vindictive and a terrible example of a governmental body oppressing an individual who has served his community honorably."

ADLAI MAKES GOOD

Adlai Stevenson Jr. finally made good on a 1983 election promise.

While running for governor against Jim Thompson, he threatened to memorialize Big Jim for the financial excesses of that day. Specifically, he would name the Illinois Center at Randolph and LaSalle streets in the Loop for Thompson.

Just before adjoining last month the state legislature did exactly that. Thompson isn't taking any bows.

In the same breath it named the Illinois Building in Springfield for the late Michael J. Howlett. That popular legislator and secretary of state had the audacity to beat then Gov. Dan Walker for the chance to take on Thompson the first time. This is considered a real honor.

In either case, it is supposedly rare to name state buildings for anyone—dead or alive.

BEST CORN AROUND

This summer's sweet corn crop is already being written off. Too cold, too little rain and a June frost are blamed.

The best of this terrible season is now growing near Algonquin. Irrigated and measured knee high on the Fourth of July, it will be served Saturday, Aug. 22.

That's the day of the 14th annual Wauconda Corn Fest at the Wauconda farm of Howard Bieze, Callahan and Gilmer roads. All the politicians, would be politicians and those who just like sweet corn show up. It's a $5 all-you-can eat deal. Get your choice of all white or salt-and-pepper (yellow and white).

"We could go another 720 ears as we did a few years ago," Bieze said.

"The rest of the sweet corn crop may be lousy this year," he said, "but the fellow growing mine promises the sweetest around." Bieze said this year's corn crop could be off 50 to 60 percent.

Bieze doesn't raise corn anymore. A gentleman farmer, he mostly eats it.

POWER LINE POLITICS

Starting July 20 and continuing for two weeks are a series of four hearings sure to draw crowd. Attendees will voice their opinion about a new high-voltage power line from Round Lake Beach through Lake Villa to Antioch.

For the past year state Rep. John Matijevich (D-North Chicago) has been championing the cause of these residents. Why? He represents the opposite end of the county. He knows the effects of electro-magnetic fields from a former associate who once lived beneath a power line. Her child died of leukemia.

Known as a foe of Com Ed, Matijevich last year proposed legislation calling for a three-year moratorium on construction of high-voltage power lines. The time would be used to study the effects of stray voltage.

Shot down by utility lobbyists, Matijevich promised the Lake Villa area opponents he will try again this fall. "But I don't want anyone to think it will pass," he said. "The utilities won't let it."

A colleague, has finally joined Matijevich. Robert Churchill, a state representative from Lake Villa, says he will sponsor legislation calling for a one-year moratorium. But like other anti-utility bills, it won't go anywhere. Churchill got Com Ed's endorsement (and money) in the spring primary.

"This is just good politics for him," Matijevich said. "He's got an election in November."

So has Matijevich. But the people he supports can't vote for him. If they could he would be the next governor.

DEMOS HAVE FUN

A member of my Grayslake fan club, Raymond LaCroix, sent this along. Hope you enjoy as much as I did.

Democrats buy most of the books that have been banned somewhere. Republicans form censorship committees and read them as a group.

Republicans usually wear hats and button-down shirts.

Democrats give their worn-out clothes to the less fortunate. Republicans wear theirs.

Republican boys date Democratic girls. They plan to marry Republican girls, but feel they're entitled to a little fun first.

Republicans sleep in twin beds—some even in separate bedrooms. That is why there are more Democrats than Republicans.

POLITICS AND BEDS

One of the major contributors to past campaigns of former Libertyville Twp. Supv. F.T. "Mike" Graham is the Rev. Lloyd R. Davis. Know that name?

He's the founder of the Waukegan-based Christian Fellowship Church.

Davis was in the news during June and July while in Waukegan and San Diego courtrooms. He is charged with allegedly assaulting teen members of his church.

Davis has ties to the township. He owns five acres with a small, white home next to the new Regency Estates development on O'Plaine Rd.

This 67-acre parcel was formerly known as Moran Woods. Several years ago the township tried in vain to purchase it for open-space purposes.

Across O'Plaine Rd. from the aborted open-space package is a parcel owned by E. Melka. That's, reportedly, Graham's mother.

Doesn't politics make strange bedfellows?

OVERHEARD/SEEN

*** WAUCONDA—Even fishermen are feeling the effects of this year's topsy-turvy weather. Worms are scarce. Gentleman farmer Howard Bieze agrees. He knows from watering his apple trees almost every evening. "When the ground gets too wet worms surface to keep from drowning," he said. "But that isn't happening like other years." ***

*** HAINESVILLE—Last year about this time Mayor George Benjamin's phone rang off the hook. Animal rights activists protested his sure-fire recipes for getting rid of groundhogs. The animals are back this summer, bigger and more destructive than ever. But don't call the mayor. He doesn't want the animal lovers on his case again. ***

*** NORTH CHICAGO—Too hot to handle is the reported suspension from the Veteran's Administration Hospital of a prominent elected local official. That agency will neither confirm nor deny this. The man was supposedly caught swimming in the VA pool. ***

*** ROUND LAKE BEACH—One-time mayoral candidate Robert "Baseball Bob" Boness is using red, white and blue stationery to promote his fall candidacy for the County Board. He's running as a Democrat. His latest mailing proudly announced his daughter, Deborah (Boness) DeFilippo, has been selected 1992 Chicago White Sox ball girl. Bob doesn't take much credit. Give that to the Avon Twp. Youth Baseball Organization for teaching her how to play softball, he says. ***

*** GRAYSLAKE—Ray LaCroix, unsuccessful Republican candidate for the County Board in Dist. 11 last March, has done it again. He's supporting a Democrat. Gail Gloede of Grayslake is on the November ballot against Farm Bureau leader Dick Raftis. Raftis made an issue out of LaCroix taking Democratic ballots in prior elections. "Although I ran as a Republican, I have no qualms about supporting a Democratic candidate" this election, LaCroix says in a mailing on green stationery. Why not? He and Gloede have been seen regularly together. Call them hand-holding friends.

across the street. For two and a half hours, Commonwealth Edison has not even come by to see if the power line is live. This from the utility company that charges the highest rates in the world, it seems, for their electric service. And the same utility that spend thousands of dollars each year running commercials telling you how good they act and how well they respond in emergencies. I am just going to sit here and hold my breath until that power line gets fixed. Good-bye!

Cops without motive

Come one, come all to beautiful Fox Lake where police officers turn on their squad lights and zoom through Grand Avenue just to get over railroad tracks without stopping, where truck drivers can speed for Grand Avenue all the way to State Park Road and never get a ticket. It seems that chasing the young kids in this community is the biggest objective for Fox Lake police.

Restaurant review

Recently, I had eaten at a certain Fox Lake restaurant after having read about good home cooking and friendly atmosphere. What a joke! The owners were unfriendly and rude, the service terrible, and the food repulsive. After we complained about the food, the one owner proceeded to tell us to eat elsewhere. And that is what I recommend to all of you.

Polyester duties

We the residents of Fox Lake Vista Terrace are tired of promises to remove the so-called box. In order to see, you have to pull your car all the way onto the highway. What are mayors and highway officials paid for anyway? Sitting on their polyester covered buns?

Black and white

Hey, yo man, I'm black and I am proud to be black. What kind of word is 'nigger' for a black person? If a white person gets sick, he turns green. White person gets cold, he turns blue. White person gets mad, he turns red. If he get jealous, he turns yellow. And they have the nerve to call me colored? What the heck is this world coming to these days? Thank you very much. Bye-bye.

Supervisor responsible for troubles

Hi, I'm from Libertyville Township. Believe me Swank (township supervisor) has done a wonderful job. I should know, I am one of the people that he removed from the township roles. Since I have had my utilities cut off no less than three times. Child support from my ex-husband is non-existent. At $14 thousand behind, there's little chance of ever seeing it. Most weeks, our diet consists of macaroni and cheese or eggs. We eat when the church or school food packages. Or when a date takes me out to eat, I bring home doggy bags so the children will have meat. If necessary, I will sell my body to feed my children. I could sell my house but I don't have the money to fix it up to sell it for what it is worth. And besides, I like the schools here. Even though my mortgage eats up three and a half weeks of my pay-per-month. New clothes aren't for us either. My 8th grader wore the same sweat pants with holes last year and refused to go to his graduation dance or party. Hand-me-downs are all they have. I am sure that Swank's children didn't miss their parties for lack of clothes. Luckily, my two eldest got full college scholarships. Of course, Swank would like to see me gone from the township so that my family doesn't tarnish his image of an affluent neighborhood. He stated that Libertyville was not a pocket of poverty, never was and never will be. Then what am I? I was once one of you. But, for the grace of God go he and his family. Thank you, good bye.

Perot is the hope

I think that everybody should take a serious look at Ross Perot. See what he has done, look at his principles, and make a choice. We know what the existing politicians are doing. It is not working. Kids are getting killed. There are guns in the schools. Our country is a mess, Perot is our hope. The great white hope. Thank you, bye.

Column is tacky

Yes, I am calling about this column. I really think that it is inappropriate for you to allow people to make comments without checking to see if they are accurate or true. They can hurt people. I think that it is a tacky way to get people to call and I think that people should be able, if they have a gripe, to do what they have done for years, which has always been the policy of the paper, to write a letter to the paper and sign your name. That is the way that it is done. If you want to say it, then say it with your name. I am appalled by this sort of activity. It is just not a correct way to do things if you have a gripe or complaint. You should stand up for what you believe is wrong and you should state it and sign your name. Thank you.

Garbage in print

Yes, I just got my copy of the Round Lake News and I cannot believe that garbage that you people are printing in the Lakeland Newspaper. If I wanted to read sensationalism and half-baked ideas, I would buy one of the stupid newspapers that they sell in the supermarkets. If you people tend to be responsible journalists, how can you print things and say things that hurt innocent people? This is pure trash.

Riding the high horse

Hi, this is in response to "Homeowners on high horses." I am one of the homeowners with several homes in Lake County that I rent out. Two months ago, I rented out a house to a young couple with three children. He had just left the service and had no work history, and she cleaned (Continued on page 18) houses for a living. I had just put about $3,000 into the house in redecorating. Well, this lovely couple moved out yesterday and I have hundreds of dollars in damage. They did not pay their last month's rent, so there went their security deposit. The newly painted walls needed repainting, the carpets need cleaning, and there is a grapefruit sized burn in the brand new kitchen counter top I just put in. Am I upset? You bet. Do I discriminate against pets? Oh yes! Because I have to pay for the damage that they cause. You, the person who wrote this letter, sit your high horse and demand that we homeowners give you a break. Please be aware that we own these houses, we pay the mortgage loan and the taxes and the insurance and no one gave us these places. We bought them with our own hard earned money. Thank you.

Taxes should benefit everyone

I would like to know why people are so short sighted. Why don't they understand that when you pay taxes for the public schools it is not for your specific child's education? It is for our children's education. All of those children are all of our futures. People should stop griping about taxes, because where is this country going to be in 20 years if they don't pay their taxes today that they don't get their education? We will be a lot worse then and we are pretty bad now. So, just pay your taxes and be thankful that the schools are there.

Caller unfair to queen

I'm calling about the articles that were printed about the Round Lake pageant that was at the park district. I think everyone was quite unfair to the girl that won. What people don't realize is that it is based on a point system. And although she messed up a little on the word, what people don't know is that she had an interview that afternoon and she could have scored high on that. I think that everyone was very unfair to her.

Oh, where has my doggy gone?

Yes, I am very mad about people that find dogs and don't report them to the police department or the animal warden or look for ads in the newspapers or on store bulletin boards. I have lost two dogs by people who have decided to keep them and these dogs are very important to me. One was lost in December and we checked the neighborhood and we checked that animal warden and we checked everywhere and no one called to report him. All these people have to do is call the police or call somebody. They can't think that they can just keep them. Thanks.

Oh, give me a home

Hi. First of all I'd like to say that I think that this is a great service. My complaint or my worry is that we have lived here for 15 years. We moved to Lake County because of its wide open spaces, and because of the beautiful area that it is, with all of the lakes and trees and nature. Do not the developers know what they are doing to Lake County? Every time one of our little towns builds up, what happens is that we need more services. So we need more schools, we need more fire protection, we need more stores and in turn, there go your taxes. Your taxes will continue to rise. We have to realize what we are doing to our farms because it is the only natural resource that the United States has that the rest of the world doesn't. I just hope that people will start to understand that once our farmland is gone and the trees are cut, all we will have left is asphalt and concrete. Is that what we really want? Thank you.

Animal abuse

I am calling because I think that it is a real stitch that you have a special advertising section on pets and a special advertising section on rodeos. Well, anybody who knows anything about animals knows that when you have a pet, you take care of the animal and when you have a rodeo, you abuse the animals. Very interesting. I guess that you are playing both sides of the pet issue there, huh?

Pick up glass, don't kill weeds

I am a Round Lake Park District patron. I can understand that if you have kids, you don't want to see them get cut by glass, well pick it up. And hey, I thought you cared. What is with the weed killer? Cancer kills, thistles don't. Look under your kitchen sink, chemical fertilizers, bug killers, weed killers. Tsk, tsk, tsk.

Park district woods

Hi I am angry over the dispute between the Vernon Hills Park District and the village trustees over Sullivan Woods property. I think that the park district has every right to question the use of that land. As a Vernon Hills resident I don't golf and prefer the natural woods. And for Trustee Cashman to suggest that they will give the park district a cold shoulder when it comes to donations is an insult.

Who does he think he is anyway? That's the people's money, not his. And Trustee Henley, is he really stupid enough to think that we'd be better off if the park district were abolished? Is he going to run the pre-school recreation programs, parks, holidays special events, etc. Everybody needs to grow up and act like adults and stop insulting each other. It is embarrassing and the trustees need to remember that not everyone golfs.

Fireworks deserve applause

Yeah, I am a boater on Fox Lake chain and we just came back from the fireworks in Mineola Bay and they were fantastic. I believe that the town should give him a good applause for his show and welcome him back. And I read in some articles that they are always looking for funding for the fireworks every year. We were out on that lake and the Coast Guard estimated approximately 2,500 boats. If they have a problem with funding, I suggest that they have some kind of official boat go around and collect money from the boats out there for the future fireworks every year. Thank you very much.

Caller should get lesson on judging

Yes, I am calling about the calls about the Miss Round Lake Pageant. The two people that called and said that the girl who won should not have been crowned, I have some comments for them. First of all, the girl definitely deserved to win. She did exactly what she was suppose to do and very well. Although she had problems getting the definition at first, she showed great poise and self-confidence when she regained her composure and finished the definition. Also, the definitions were not the whole pageant. The winner was based on the whole pageant, not on one part. If beauty were based on the definition of words, Webster would have been on the cover of Cosmo. The other contestants would not have made better choices, because they were not the overall best contestants. They were (Continued on page 30)

High-flying honeymoon Skydiving couple takes the plunge

Only time will tell if Kathy and Donal Devine's marriage was made in heaven, but the wedding party did arrive for the reception from that general direction.

Donal and Kathy tied the knot, strapped on their gear and made their entrance to the post-nuptials party from 13,000 feet up.

But it was just another airborne afternoon for the two avid skydivers.

Donal and Kathy (née Kozlarska) first laid eyes upon each other in a plane full of skydivers at East Troy, Wis. in September of 1990.

"I saw her for the first time in a plane when we were going up to jump," Donal said. "And then, I saw her more and more."

Donal — a native of Benoni, South Africa — said the biggest barrier to their budding romance was his dialect.

"At first it was very hard talking — I think my accent threw her off."

They apparently translated it all into the language of love and got together for their first real date about three weeks after the initial encounter.

During the course of a year-and-a-half courtship, an engagement was made. The impending wedding prompted a mutual friend to come up with the notion for a spectacular send-off.

"At first we kind of ignored him," Donal said. "It was a very big thing to plan — it took months of arrangements."

The Devines said their vows in St. Peter's Church in Spring Grove, June 25, before driving to East Troy.

Kathy and Donal and 11 other enthusiasts suited up, boarded a plane and headed back to jump over Fox Lake's Vacation Village, where the newlyweds reside and the site of the reception. The best man, Steve Bealeau, made the jump, but the maid of honor, Karen Kyzmicki, declined.

Two of the wedding-party divers kept a mid-air record of the jump with video cameras. One had a hook-up to a monitor back on the planet, so friends and guests could see the action as the group linked up during the free-fall.

"It actually exceeded my expectations," Donal said. "It went like clockwork."

Despite over 250 jumps to her credit, Kathy said she was a little apprehensive about the wedding bail-out.

"At first I think I was a little more nervous than he was, but it went very well," Kathy said. "It was picture-perfect. Basically, it's as close to a dream as you can get."

Friends and family traveled from far and wide to witness the event. Special guests on Donal's side of the church were his mother, Ena, sister, Glynnis, and her husband and kids and three friends — all visiting from South Africa.

Kathy, a Florida native, invited longtime friend Lester Hernandez, who was quickly initiated into skydiving during a tandem jump the day before the wedding. Kathy's father, Howard, was on hand to give away the bride.

Donal began skydiving about six years ago in his homeland, and it was infectious. He's jumped around 450 times.

"I had always wanted to try it and say I did it once," Donal said. "Then I couldn't stop."

Kathy isn't quite sure why she started, but now she's devoted to skydiving — and, of course, Donal.

"I'm not sure exactly why I started — I had some time on my hands," she said. "I love being in the air."

Kathy and Donal — who jump just about every weekend during the warm months — are members of the Sky Knights, which are based at East Troy. The club has about 100 active members, Donal said.

The wedding jump, Donal said, couldn't have taken place without permission from the Federal Aviation Agency, Vacation Village and the Village of Fox Lake and a little help from their friends.

"It was all made possible by the many people involved," he said. "We couldn't have done it ourselves."

Kathy, the administrator of a dental office, and Donal, a computer operator, work different shifts, and Kathy said that makes their time together even more precious.

"It just makes the time we do have together quality time."

Basin Brothers

Louisiana's Basin Brothers, whose first Flying Fish release "Let's Get Cajun" was a Grammy finalist in the traditional folk category, will make their first Chicagoland appearance on Monday, July 20, at Taylor's, 34600 Lake St., Grayslake.

The Lake County Folk Club will host the concert-dance for the quintet with the first of two sets starting at 7:30 p.m. Lake County's Beggar's Alley will open for the Basin Brothers. Admission is $6.

The Basin Brothers play the lilting waltzes, toe-tapping two-steps, and hot tempo Zydeco that have long been the social music of the region.

Beat the heat in Phoenix by going underground

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Phoenix's heat, while a welcome relief from our midwestern winters, can be downright unpleasant in the summer. That's when you should head underground!

I'm talking about the many caves just a few hours drive out of town. They range from the guided tour, family variety, to the walk-crawl-slide-on-your-belly type for the more adventurous. One thing all of these caves have in common is a year-round temperature of about 45 degrees!

Let's start with those not requiring ropes and hard hats. Colossal Cave, on the way to Tucson, offers guided tours for about $4. Legend has it that in the late 1880's a bank robber disappeared into this cave with $62,000 in gold coins; never to be seen again.

Grand Canyon Cavern, west of Seligman on Route 66, was discovered in 1927. Guided tours were conducted via rope ladders until 1936. Now you can ride an elevator into the main chamber and follow a concreted guided trail.

For the slightly more adventurous there is Lava River Cave northwest of Flagstaff. To get into this, you must climb through a huge hole into a sometimes icy chamber. The temperature here can get into the thirties!

Colder yet is ice cave northeast of Flagstaff. Warm clothes are a must as 28 degrees is not uncommon as you venture the half-mile into the cave. Bring a flashlight.

Crystal Cave, in the Chiricahau Mountains, requires a stop at the Douglas Ranger Station for a permit and a $25 refundable key deposit to unlock the gate at the cave entrance. While you don't have to be an experienced "spelunker", you should have some knowledge of cave exploration and cave safety to visit this kind of cave. True to its name, Crystal Cave has crystals growing on its ceilings and walls.

Copper Queen underground mine is, as the name implies, not a cave but a mine. The 75-minute tour leading 1,800 feet into the Mule Mountains is worth the $4. You'll find this one near Bisbee.

What better escape from the Arizona Sun than to see what is underground!

'Batman Returns' in style

The "Batman" sequel has been desecrating boxoffice records since its opening, and most critics have turned enthusiastic thumbs up on this, or any summer's, leading money-maker.

After viewing "Batman Returns" we admit to finding it an excellent film—of its type.

Personally this is not our kind of movie, but we are also not into many of the fine science fiction sagas which have proven so popular.

Looking at the picture objectively, we thought it to be a better product of its kind than the parent film.

Although Batman and all the other fugitives from a costume store certainly have plenty of toys with which to astound and amuse the audience, and fiery explosions and other magnificent special effects run rampant, the distressingly demented personalities of the three lead characters dominate the movie.

Michael Keaton's somber, brooding champion of justice again looms ominously, but we see a few more personal flashes of Bruce Wayne, especially in his relationship with the Catwoman.

We still wonder how Wayne maneuvers in a suit that makes an average sized man look eight feet tall and as broad as Mr. T.

Michelle Pfeiffer steals the show as the Catwoman by expanding the sexy feline character that crawled across the grand piano in "The Fabulous Baker Boys."

Michelle Pfeiffer

In "Batman," Jack Nicholson's Joker carried comedy to fiendish heights and was probably one of the screen's outstanding villains. You just had to love him.

In the sequel, Danny DeVito's performance as the Penguin rates among his best, but the character developed by Director Tim Burton and DeVito, though pathetic, is repulsive and disgusting.

This is largely due to the black and goeey makeup job and we just couldn't feel sympathetic towards him despite his sad story.

The movie starts with the Penguin's parents packing their ugly baby into a basket and sending him into the sewer system of Gotham City. Of course some Penguins find the baby when the basket is washed into the Gotham City Zoo.

Pfeiffer is the mealy-mouthed executive secretary to Christopher Walken, the nefarious millionaire dictator of Gotham City.

Her character does a 360 degree turn and she becomes what is tantamount to a female Batman when Walken shoves her out a window to shut her mouth.

Again, animals find her body and somehow a batch of cats bring her back to life, ergo the Catwoman.

Although Gotham and its inhabitants still reflect the murky side of life, the entire movie is a bit brighter than it's predecessor without losing its Stygian flavor.

With the bottom line growing greener by the day, the pleasing emotional relationship between Pfeiffer and Keaton having taken seed, and the fact that the Catwoman has a least one or two lives left, "Son of Batman Returns" is almost a certainty.

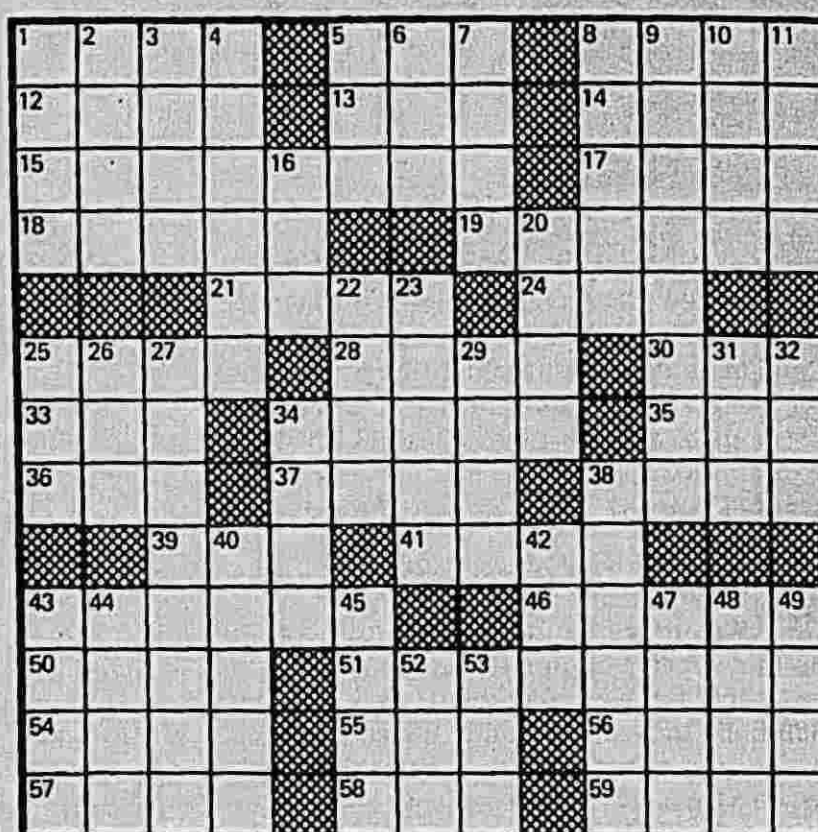

We rate "Batman Returns" four out of five stars, one of those you just can't wait for the video release to see.

Although the movie is rated PG13, we know every little kid in the U. S. will want to see "Batman Returns." It would help if their parents would explain the "fairytale" aspect of the film as well as the fact that the leading characters have many unsolved mental problems negating their possible ascent to the pedestal of role models. —by GLORIA DAVIS

Thirsting for Answers about Water and Nutrition

Are 8 Glasses Enough?

by Nutrition Correspondent
Christine Palumbo, R.D.

Nutritionists tell us that 8 glasses of water each day help keep the body operating at peak efficiency. Water is necessary for the functioning of almost all of the body's living cells.

Since water is absorbed by the body, it's important to monitor not only the amount of water you drink daily, but the qualbottled water undergoes federally regulated purification and processing, all potentially harmful ingredients are removed. So families can use bottled water with confidence for cooking, mixing and drinking.

Some families postpone adding bottled water to their home nutrition program out of concern about costs. Industry experts, how-ity of that water. Water acts like a magnet, attracting impurities from the ground, the air and even from the pipes that bring water into your home. Although most of these impurities are removed before they reach your tap, traces often remain. Today's health conscious families are turning to bottled water to meet their nutrition needs. Since ever, estimate that only 1% of the 70 gallons used each day by the average American household is consumed. That translates into a small amount of money for a lot of reassurance about meeting your family's nutrition needs.

Today's more active lifestyles demand that we all consume a minimum of 8 glasses of water each day. And today's more health conscious consumers have discovered the nutritional value of bottled water.

Know benefits of air bags and child safety seats

These benefits also apply to other occupant protection systems.

In a front-end crash, supplemental air bags provide even greater "ride-down" benefit, spreading the forces across a larger area of the body. They keep the front seat passengers from striking the steering wheel, dashboard, windshield and interior posts. However, even with an air bag present, a safety belt must be worn to protect the occupant inside impact and rollover crashes.

Children need special protection

The body of a child is different from an adult's body. The skull is softer and more fragile. The head is heavier and much larger in proportion to the rest of the body. The rib cage is thinner and more elastic. The young child's prominent abdomen provides only limited protection to the large internal organs. Unlike an adult, a child has a pelvis with broad gentle contours. The prominent chests which can provide an anchor point and contact area for a lap safety belt do not develop until approximately age 10. And most young children are not tall enough to use a shoulder belt. All these factors make it important to provide special crash protection for the infant and young child.

Careless habits in a vehicle can be especially dangerous to children. If there is a crash or a sudden stop, a child standing on the seat becomes a missile that is likely to strike some part of the car's interior. A child leaning out a window can be wholly or partly ejected. A baby sitting on an adult's lap may be crushed against the dashboard or seat back by the adult. Even in low speed crashes, unbelted children can suffer serious head injuries. Parents place children at considerable risk if they allow a child to kneel on the seat, climb around in a moving car, or sleep in the rear window ledge of a car or the back of a station wagon.

A child needs the special protection of a child safety seat. If used all the time, child safety seats could prevent 53,000 injuries and save 500 lives a year. When correctly used, child safety seats are 71 percent effective in preventing fatalities, 67 percent effective in reducing the need for hospitalization and 50 percent effective in preventing injuries.

Which seat is right for my child?

Child safety seats come in several sizes to accommodate the various growth stages of a child. There is no "best" seat. The important thing is to find the seat that best suits you, your child and your car. Whichever seat you choose, you must carefully read and follow the manufacturer's instructions. Remember, the safest seat is the one that is used properly every time, even for a quick run to the store or just around the block.

Cop Comment

Choosing the right safety seat depends on your child's weight and height. Similarly, the decision to switch to another seat should also be based on your child's weight and height.

There are three basic categories of child safety seats.

- Infant (birth to 9-12 month/s and about 20 lbs.)

- Toddler convertible (birth to about 4 years or 40 lbs.)

- Booster (over 4 years and 40 lbs. to about 60 lbs.)

It is extremely important that the car's safety belt be routed through or around the safety seat according to the manufacturer's instructions. Misrouting of the car's safety belt can seriously compromise the effectiveness of the safety seat, allowing it to tip over or pitch forward in a crash.

Are you using your child safety seat correctly?

- Is the safety belt routed through and child safety seat correctly, according to the manufacturer's instruction

- Is the safety belt tight and is a locking clip being used if necessary?

- Is the infant seat facing backward, not forward?

If the seat comes with a harness:

- Is the child snugly secured by the harness?

- Is the crotch strap adjusted as short as possible?

- Do the lower straps or partial shield rest on or cross your child's hips, not abdomen?

- Are the shoulder straps snug against the child's chest?

- Are the shoulder straps in the proper slots? (below the shoulder for a rear-facing seat or above the shoulder for a forward-facing seat)

- If there is a retainer strap or clip to keep the shoulder straps in place, is it secured at armpit level according to the manufacturer's instructions?

- Is the shield portion of the seat in the proper position?

- Does the booster seat have the needed upper body support—a lap/shoulder belt harness, or shield?

It is always better to wear a safety belt?

Without a doubt, occupant protection devices do make a difference. Each time a vehicle is in use its occupants should be protected—by a safety belt, by a child safety seat and, whenever possible, by an air bag.

Occupant protection devices alone cannot be expected to save lives in every conceivable crash situation. Some crashes are just so severe—especially those at high speed or when the passenger compartment is crushed or invaded—that nothing could prevent fatal injuries. Yet, time and again, safety belts, air bags and child safety seats dramatically reduce the seriousness of injuries suffered. In nearly all crashes, you are better off being buckled up.

Drivers wearing safety belts have more control over the car in emergency situations. They are therefore more likely to avoid a crash.

Safety belts do not trap people. If you are wearing your belt, you are far more likely to be conscious during and after a crash. Wearing your safety belt actually improves your chances to free yourself and help other passengers.

Motor vehicle crashes happen when you least expect them—even close to home, at slow speeds, on dry roads. No one is immune. Even good drivers can make an error or be hit by a drunk driver.

The law in Illinois states that "Each driver and front seat passenger of a motor vehicle operated on a street or highway in this State shall wear a properly adjusted and fastened seat safety belt..." (for exceptions, see Illinois vehicle code chapter 95 1/2 section 12-603.1). So wearing a seat belt isn't just a good idea, it's the law.

If you have any questions or comments, we would love to hear from you. If there is a subject you would like to see addressed, write to Deputy Martin Smith, Lake County Sheriff's Department, Community Services Division, 25 S. Utica St., Waukegan, IL 60085, or call (708) 360-5830 and ask for either Martin or LT. Steve Towns-end.

Blame for both cop, man in deadly crash

by DAN BERNARD
Lakeand Newspapers

A Mundelein police officer and a Long Grove resident were equally at fault in the collision that killed the resident in May, according to a county report released late last week.

Both Patrolman Mark Parrish and resident Kris Lemmon had about two and a half seconds to react before Parrish's squad car rammed into the side of Lemmon's car in the intersection of routes 45 and 83 in Mundelein.

If either had reacted in that time, the crash that threw 38-year-old Lemmon from his car and killed him on May 10 might have been avoided, said a county investigator.

"I think in that two and a half seconds, if someone had reacted that collision could have been prevented," said Lake County Sheriff's investigator Roger Barrette. "But no one did" react, Barrette said.

That means Parrish is likely to avoid criminal charges in the case, Barrette said. The Lake County State's Attorney's office was reviewing the report this week to determine whether to file such charges, and the Mundelein Police and Fire Commission was to decide whether a departmental reprimand was appropriate.

Parrish was on an emergency call May 10 when he entered the 45-83 intersection with his emergency lights flashing. While the county report did not fully settle the question of whether Parrish had also activated his audible siren, its findings suggested he likely had. Of 15 witnesses interviewed, only one said that Parrish's audio siren was not on at any point. The others' accounts differed as to how long before entering the intersection Parrish had sounded his siren.

"The majority of them said at some point it was working," Barrette said.

Mundelein Police Chief Wallace Frasier said Wednesday he had read the report but would not comment on its findings. Representatives of the state's attorney and Mundelein Police and Fire Commission were unavailable for comment.

The 95-page report is the result of 100 personhours between May 10 and July 2, Barrette said. The findings are a combination of measurements of physical evidence and computer-assisted calculations.

Before the collision, Parrish had been involved in a traffic stop near Route 45 and Grosse Pointe Road. When a call came in to assist another officer in a domestic disturbance in the Loch Lomond subdivision, Parrish drove westbound on 45 in his 1991 Chevrolet Caprice squad car.

Lemmon, a popular mailman in Prairie View, was heading south on 83 in his 1965 El Camino. Contrary to initial witness reports, Lemmon's traffic light was not red but green, and he continued into the intersection. Barrette's report states Lemmon thus committed the traffic violation of failing to yield to an emergency vehicle.

The squad car drove head-on into the driver side of Lemmon's car. Computer projections estimate the squad car was travelling 54 miles per hour at the time of impact; Lemmon's car, 41 m.p.h.

The Red Noodle in Round Lake Beach in the Round Lake Commons shopping center. In 1987, owners Tom and Judi Yingling built a larger store to accommodate a growing clientele on Rte. 83 just north of Rollins Road.

Red Noodle's success and longevity is due to delicious, homemade American and Italian specialties, great service and a sincere concern for providing great food at reasonable prices.

To celebrate 15 years in business, the Yingling family is rolling back prices to 1977. On Friday, July 10 and Saturday, July 11, dining room customers can enjoy pizza at 1977 prices for lunch or dinner.

Coffee vendor perks up county offices

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

With a number of small businesses springing up all over Lake County, one local beverage vendor hopes new business starts mean new accounts in the ever competitive snack food industry.

Lindenhurst residents Karen and Rich Rosko, who formed World Cup Coffee Systems in 1987, operate a 200 account refreshment sales business that offers not only top-of-the-line products, but unmatched customer service and attention.

"Our customers are everything," said Rich Rosko. "We get them whatever they want because we know if we don't, somebody else will."

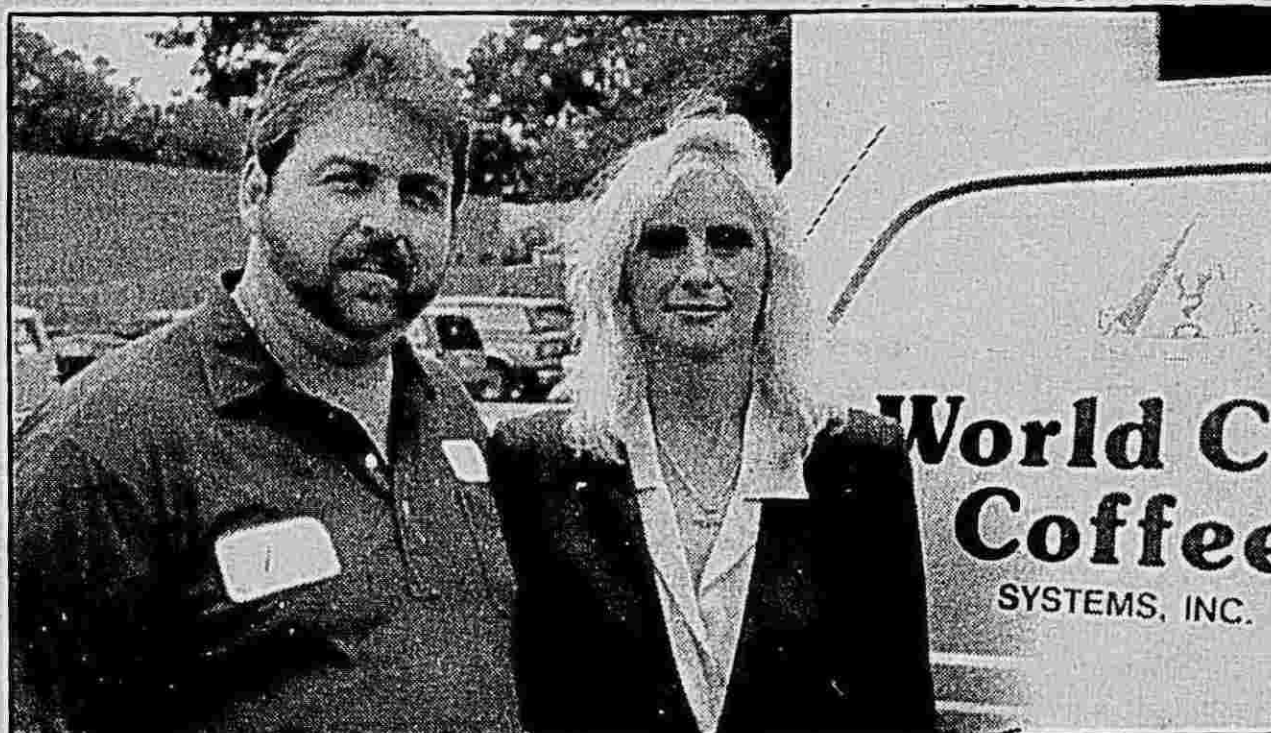

World Cup, which started as primarily a coffee service, provides their customers, mostly small business offices of under 100 people, with coffee service, vending and pop machines, and bottled water service.

"We provide the small office with the products they want, the equipment and the service they expect," said Rich Rosko. "We want to be their one-stop place for refreshment services."

Karen Rosko, who serves as president and develops new customer sales for World Cup added, "Many of our customers are spoiled. We treat them the way we would like to be treated."

The Roskos spoil their customers by calling their accounts at least once a week, whether or not the client needs product replacement.

"Referrals have been our best marketing tool," said Rich Rosko. "You can't buy better marketing than that."

World Cup serves many small office areas, such as banks, factories, and office complexes, with a variety of snack and refreshment choices. Not surprisingly, many of those choices are a direct result of what the customer wants.

"One account keeps running out of the same type of soda in the vending machine," said Karen Rosko. "We really feel that the client must receive the products they want and expect."

With their service area growing, the Roskos feel they will still be able to service every account with the same dedication as that first account in 1987.

"We started with zero accounts," said Rich Rosko. "We now have 200 accounts that run from O'Hare to Zion. Whatever they want, we will provide them."

According to the Roskos, the most popular coffee for their accounts is 100 percent Columbian Hills Brothers, but World Cup will get any type of coffee or drink you want.

"We have our own private label, but if they want a specific brand, we get it for them," said Rich Rosko.

This company's focus on customer service has resulted from the Roskos' previous experience in supermarket management. Rich worked for Kohls and Dominick's while Karen worked at Parkway Foods in Libertyville.

"You really want to make them happy," said Karen Rosko.

However, this family's entrepreneur spirit doesn't end with mom and dad. The Roskos' three children, 10-year-old Jaimee, 4-year-old Danielle and 2-year-old John, have begun a candy and gumball machine service, which will pay for the children's college in the future.

According to Rich Rosko, the machines presently bring in $25 a month, of which $10 goes towards the college savings account.

"Jaimee has better product knowledge than I do," said Rich Rosko. "This is great experience for the kids."

For more information about World Cup and its services, call Rich or Karen Rosko at (708) 265-1252.

Several tax deductions for frequent business travelers

Whether you're an employee or work on your own, business travel comes with a hefty price tag. If traveling across the country or even around your state is a necessary part of your business, you are entitled to some tax deductions that can help offset your expenses, according to the Illinois CPA Society.

Be aware that travel expenses of employees are subject to rules different from travel expenses of those who are self-employed. Unreimbursed employee travel expenses are considered "miscellaneous expenses" and, as such, are only partially deductible. If you are an employee, you may deduct only those unreimbursed expenses that together with other miscellaneous expenses exceed two percent of your adjusted gross income. This restriction does not apply if you are self-employed.

Most expenses incurred on a business trip away from your business home are tax-deductible, depending on the length of your stay. These include transportation costs, such as rail or airline tickets, cab fares, automobile expenses, meals and lodging, laundry, tips, as well as telephone and fax charges.

The cost of taking a spouse along on a business trip is not deductible unless it can be shown that the presence of the spouse serves a bona fide business purpose.

On one-day business trips within the general area of your employment, you may not deduct the costs of lodging or meals, unless you are working with a client during that meal. Meals and lodging are generally tax deductible on a business trip that lasts longer than a regular working day and usually requires an overnight stay.

Even if you meet the overnight tests for meal costs, tax law limits the deduction of meal costs to only 80 percent of the actual cost. This rule applies whether you are eating alone on your trip or entertaining a client.

If you didn't keep accurate records of meal costs on your business trips, you can claim the standard federal meal and incidental expense rate. For travel within the continental United States, the daily meal allowance is generally $26. In high-cost areas specified by the IRS, the meal allowance is $34. Even if your expenses are less than the M & IE rate, as long as you are on a legitimate business trip and can document the time, place and business purpose of the trip, you may claim the standard amounts.

Keep in mind that if you are entertaining a client, you must be able to show that meal and entertainment expenses are directly related to your business or directly precede or follow a substantial and bona fide business discussion on a subject associated with the conduct of your business. If you meet this requirement, a deduction is also allowed for your spouse's share of the entertainment costs.

If you usually travel by car on most of your business trips, here is some good news: For the 1992 tax year, Congress has raised the standard mileage deduction to 28 cents per mile. You may claim 28 cents per mile or the actual expenses incurred. Actual expenses include costs for oil and gas, parking fees, repairs, insurance and tolls. To verify your deductions for these types of expenses, make sure you maintain accurate records.

Keep in mind that you cannot take a deduction for the expenses of driving to and from your regular place of business. No matter how far you travel to work, commuting costs are not tax-deductible. If you work two jobs, the IRS will allow you to deduct the costs of commuting between the jobs, as long as you don't stop home to have a meal before you go to your second job.

Although travel expenses to legitimate conventions and seminars are tax-deductible, the IRS scrutinizes these carefully, particularly if the convention is held in a resort location and if you are accompanied by family members.

To deduct expenses associated with attending a convention, you must demonstrate that the convention was connected with your business or may help to benefit or enhance your position. Even if you meet this requirement, costs for social or recreational activities, such as sightseeing and entertainment events, are not tax-deductible. Legitimate expenses include the cost of traveling to and from the convention, lodging, tips, and even room costs for product expositions.

What if you travel on business to a resort location and then decide to take some vacation time? CPAs point out that you can still deduct the costs of your transportation to and from the resort, your lodging, and 80 percent of meal costs, as long as the main purpose of the trip was to conduct business. Remember, if you travel to a three-day convention, and spend another four days vacationing, expenses incurred during that vacation time are not tax-deductible.

The rules in this area are strict. According to the Illinois CPA Society, the best way to ensure that you get the deductions you deserve is by keeping a diary of all your business-related travel expenses.

Learn to become effective by focusing on priorities

by CHARLES J. GIVENS

Efficiency is like being in a road race with no destination. The efficiency trap causes thoughts like, "I was busy all day, but I don't feel like I accomplished much."

The feelings and rewards associated with real accomplishments are produced by learning to become effective.

Strategy: To become effective, apply the 20 percent rule.

This rule says that 20 percent of the items you could spend time on will produce 80 percent of the results. In the purest sense, it would be a waste of time, talent and energy to spend time on anything not in the top 20 percent until those things are completed.

Strategy: Every day write your "to do" list and identify the top 20 percent.

Your top 20 percent first will include "must-do" items. Things that if not accomplished by a specific time will create additional undesirable things with which to deal. Must-do includes items like:

1. Pay the parking ticket today to prevent the fine from doubling.

2. Attend your daughter's play at 8 p.m. (Include personal items on your list).

3. Show up at department meeting at 3:15 p.m. to prevent backlash from the boss.

4. Put gas in the car so as not to have to walk.

The most important part are items that contribute to your goals. These maximum result-producing items might include:

1. Writing a new brochure for your business.

2. Applying for the equity loan on your home.

3. Balancing your checkbook and credit card statements.

4. Calling five prospects for your business.

5. Spending quality time with the kids.

Bridal flowers — trends and traditions

We may be on the brink of a new century, but many old bridal traditions are back and fresher than ever. Whether the couple chooses an extravagant ceremony or a simple one, each wedding is imaginative and uniquely suited to their tastes.

Although many economic forecasters are predicting weddings won't be as flashy this season (guest lists will be shorter, buffet meals will take the place of sit-down dinners and family cars will be driven instead of rented limos), one thing is clear: Couples are embracing family values and traditions with a newfound enthusiasm.

By all accounts, the wedding boom shows signs of warning. Nearly 2.4 million glorious ceremonies will be celebrated this year, according to the Floral Report, a marketing research firm based in Chicago. Setting the trend will be less focus on pageantry and more on style. Two moods set the tone: the first is clean, neat, sophisticated; the second is soft and light.

Regardless of what style the bride chooses for herself and her maids, the season's soft lines make attention to accessories a must. The ultimate accessory is, of course, flowers. Flowers remain a focal point in the wedding and reception planning. Vivid, fragrant, exploding with color and fragrance, the flowers a bride carries make as unique a statement as her wedding dress.

Texture and drama come into play in the blending of flowers in unusual ways, and over the years no single flower has been so loved, so revered, so renowned, or so admired as the rose. Roses, love and marriage remain synonymous.

So here comes the bride and her bouquet — a match made in heaven. The flowers and the bride who carries them have everything in common. Coincidence? Not according to floral tastes. An overwhelming number of brides this year are leaning towards traditional, romantic and classical bouquets and arrangements when ordering their wedding flowers. High-style and contrived looks are out. Brides prefer bouquets that look "comfortable and natural," not "arty and far out."

In order to present the look that best suits you, plan on visiting your florist at least two months before your wedding — sooner if possible. Consider several ways in which you can use roses as accessories. You may want to use them as a decorative piece on the brim of your bridesmaids' hats. Many floral industry magazines are also showing roses worn as neck and ankle pieces. Ask your florist for suggestions.

Familiarize yourself with the site of the ceremony — church, synagogue, hotel or home. Make a mental note of how much space is available. Ask the church custodian the length of the aisles so your florist can supply the correct runner. Also, ask about any regulations they may have on lit candles, use of roses on the pews, and around the altar. Little things like this can become big important things the day of the wedding.

Since most of your time is spent with relatives and friends at the reception, decorations are of the utmost importance. The food, drink and flowers all must work together.

Floral centerpieces should be constructed so that guests can see over or through them. Possibilities include roses in low-lying arrangements, tall branches with roses attached to the top (such as a topiary), several rose stems in a high vase, or a tall candelabra. Have your florist create a mood by adding seasonal greenery or materials such as a piece of fabric, something similar to the bride's dress, to the arrangements.

To thank those who have played a special part in the wedding, roses can be handed out to departing guests, or centerpieces can double as favors. Leaving a rose and a note in a hotel room is a nice way to welcome family members and friends.

Your wedding and reception will come and go all too quickly. By planning in advance and coordinating what may seem at first to be the little things, you can make your wedding and reception a unique statement of your personal style.

Bridal trousseau thrives in tough times

Has today's bride-to-be given up dreams of pampering herself with a luxurious trousseau during these recessionary times?

Certainly not! Just as the large wedding is as popular as ever, packing a suitcase filled with a new lingerie wardrobe remains a bridal tradition. In fact, the average bride spends nearly $1,000 building her honeymoon trousseau.

Clearly, women are not willing to sacrifice their romantic fantasies when it comes to this once-in-a-lifetime event.

Brides can take heart, though: The varied styles and fabrics of today's lingerie make it easier than ever to select a trousseau that will take them far beyond the honeymoon. To help, following are some tips on current lingerie styles and how to care for them:

• "Ready-to-wear" lingerie appeals to today's fashion-forward bride.

Lacy bustiers create beguiling silhouettes when paired with jeans or pants; silky camisoles easily replace the traditional blouse underneath a smart suit; and the silk chemise makes for a chic evening look when worn alone or under a jacket.

• Some lingerie fashions continue to take their cue from menswear.

Boxer shorts and oversized shirts with feminine touches like floral prints and jewel-ton colors are timeless favorites that are comfortable and fun to wear.

• Important on your first night together as Mr. and Mrs., the honeymoon peignoir can add romance for anniversaries to come.

A full-length gown embellished with lace and accompanied by a coordinating robe is as popular as ever, particularly in luxurious fabrics like silk.

Brides needn't shy away from silk; while delicate, many silks now are washable. To keep the peignoir a treasured part of your life for years to come, launder in the gentle cycle, or in a basin of cool water. When drying, hang on a padded hanger—a wire one can cause permanent rust stains—and never put silk in the dryer, since it can disintegrate.

• For the modern romantic, sexy teddies, corselets and the new bodysuits or body stockings and made from stretch lace are enticing options.

This lightweight fabric retains its shape nicely, providing for a better fit and longer garment life. It's also safe and convenient to wash spandex and other fine fabrics in the gentle cycle with cool water.

• Empire waist nightgowns trimmed with lavish laces or adorned with beads and faux pearls conjure up visions of old-fashioned romance.

If the beads are sewn, not glued, onto a washable fabric, the garment can be hand-washed in cool water. If the beading is glued, take it to a reputable dry cleaner and ask that a net bag be used and that the garment be tested before cleaning.

• No longer limited to the traditional ankle beads and pearls, today bridal hosiery features all-over patterns—lace, dots, ribbing—that flatter the legs. After the wedding, these versatile styles are often a perfect complement to other outfits in your wardrobe.

To help hosiery last longer, place in a mesh lingerie band and wash in the gentle cycle, or by hand in cool water.

Make your wedding unique

Today's savvy husband-and-wife-to-be will not have to learn the hard way when it comes to planning their wedding. They've heard many horror stories from married friends and relatives who made wedding blunders, and know what to avoid.

One of the most tragic mistakes engaged couples make is letting the bride take over all the wedding plans. The best place to start sharing as husband and wife is with the wedding arrangements. This approach makes the wedding more special and satisfying for both of them.

Another fatal error young couples make is letting their parents dictate what the wedding day should be like. Although many of these families have good intentions, their requests come off as demands and cause a lot of hard feelings for all involved, especially the bride and groom.

Whether it's the couple's desire to marry while jumping out of an airplane, or on a sunset cruise, it is up to them.

How to cope when things don't go so smoothly

You find the mate of your dreams, fall madly in love, date for a few years, and decide to get married. Now it's time to plan a wedding. You know yours will be perfect—after all, it's supposed to be, right? Wrong!

Too many couples fall into this trap. Some believe that the wedding must be perfect to ensure a happy life together. This illusion causes stress and, in some cases, could even lead to a break-up before the wedding ever happens!

One mistake many couples make is having the expectation that everything will go right. It won't.

When you have to plan, arrange, decide, schedule, reschedule, come to agreements, rehearse, try on, get fitted and so on, while dealing with a photographer, a caterer, a limousine driver, a priest or rabbi (or both), a set of bridesmaids and ushers, a seamstress, a jeweler, a band leader or disc jockey, a florist, two sets of in-laws, and the many other personalities you must deal with when planning a wedding, chances are there will be at least one problem. So if there's only one, consider yourself lucky!

The variety of mishaps that could happen range from the bridesmaids' dresses getting dyed fluorescent green instead of lavender, to a hurricane hitting the day of your outdoor wedding. And even though these problems may seem like the end of the world, they can become amusing anecdotes to reflect upon later in life.

For the most part, wedding blunders are part of the whole wedding experience; some even add spice to the day. And since in most cases they can't be avoided, it's best to laugh them off instead of letting them get the best of you. The only thing you can do to avoid these mishaps is to plan early and communicate clearly. Confirm, reconfirm, and confirm again!

Even if you do everything right and something goes wrong, don't fret.

The most important thing is to make the best of the mishaps, and enjoy the start of your life together!

ANTIOCH TOWNSHIP ASSESSMENT ROLL FOR 1992
OFFICIAL ASSESSMENT LIST

This publication is the official notice to property owners of the 1992 changes of land and improvements in the Township of Antioch. The 1992 assessments as published are those determined by the Assessor and/or the Supervisor of Assessments. It is the duty of the Assessor to assess all taxable property on a uniform basis of valuation so that the assessed values of the various properties are a just and equal assessment of such properties according to law. The assessment roll recording the values of property determines only the distribution of the total tax load among the individual property owners. The Township Assessor and/or the Supervisor of Assessments has no control over the amount of taxes levied, nor the public expenditures. The amount of these assessed values (subject to state equalization), minus applicable exemptions, multiplied by the established tax rate, determines the amount of your tax bill. The Assessor does not make the rate; he merely finds the value of your property.

EQUALIZATION

The following printed assessments, as well as all other assessments in the township, are shown at 33.33% of market value, having been equalized to that level by the Supervisor of Assessments, who has applied a factor of 1.0061 to all values except those assessed under the provision of Secs. 20e, 20g-1, 20k and 44.1 of the Revenue Act of 1939, as amended. Application of the township equalization factor represents a 0.61 percent increase in assessments.

To determine the market value of your property, add the total of the land and the total of the building(s) and divide the result by 0.3333. If it appears that the resulting number is higher than the market value of the property, you may be over-assessed. If the resulting number is less than your opinion of market value, the assessment may be low.

ARRANGEMENTS OF LIST

If you live in an incorporated area (city or village), your property is listed under the name of your city or village, which will be in alphabetical order. Each street within the city or village is also arranged in alphabetical order. Property owners living on the same street will be listed as follows:

First - vacant property or improved property with no street number

Second - property with street number listed in numerical order (may be approximate) If you live in an unincorporated area, the property is listed alphabetically by post office and street name. Then, property without street numbers will be listed first followed by numbered properties in numerical order.

INFORMATION ON ASSESSMENTS

Any property owner who has any question in regard to the assessments of their property should call the local Township Assessor's office. This publication does not reflect reductions for Homestead Limited Exemptions, Senior Homestead Exemptions, Homestead Improvements Exemptions or Disabled Veteran's Exemptions. The aforementioned exemptions are not removed from the assessments until the time of billing. You will see them removed on your tax bill, with a notation as to which exemptions have been applied.

Note that land value and building value appear separately and should be added together to arrive at a total assessed value. These values are subject to a state adjustment factor certified to the County Clerk by the Illinois Department of Revenue. Any property owner who objects to the amount of their assessment should file a complaint in writing with the Board of Review from June First to September 10, 1992, or until 30 (thirty) days after publication, whichever is later. Complaints must be on the prescribed form and can be obtained by telephoning 360-6609, or by written request to the Supervisor of Assessments, 18 North County Street, Waukegan, IL 60085-4339.

Questions regarding the grid system used in determining address numbers should be directed to the Lake County Map Services Department, whose telephone number is 360-6373.

Royal traditions create romantic wedding memories

Tradition and the contemporary wedding are a heaven made match as today's bride includes the romantic customs of the past with current trends. Too often though, traditions are not known or understood. Here are three popular and royal traditions originating from English and European custom. They are certain to add romance and charm to your wedding day.

A special custom just for your bridesmaids and widely followed in the traditional wedding, is the custom of ribbon pulling. The bride acquires six special bridesmaids' charms: a ring, a flower (or fleur-de-lis), a heart, a clover, an anchor, and a rocking horse (the English used a thimble). A thin blue ribbon is then tied to each charm as each is hidden in the wedding cake's outside edge of frosting. The bridesmaids then take turns selecting a charm.

The bridesmaid's fortune is foretold by the charm she draws from the cake. The ring symbolizes the next to marry and the rocking horse who will have a "happy home." The anchor symbolizes a future of adventure, the heart of true love forthcoming, and the clover of good luck. Presentation of each charm in special jewelry boxes is an accepted variation of this tradition.

The next tradition originated in the Victorian Age of England. The commonly heard wedding poem "Something Old, Something New, Something Borrowed, Something Blue, and a Lucky Sixpence for Your Shoe" is perhaps the most widely followed nuptial custom, but the least understood.

Each line of the poem has unique significance to the wedding. "Something Old" and "Borrowed" are items usually given to the bride by a loved one to bring happiness to the new marriage.

"Something New" — often her gown — represents the bride's acceptance of new life. As for the "Something Blue," its origins can be traced to the rhyme, "Those who dress in blue, have lovers true."

The last line of the poem, "And a Lucky Sixpence for Your Shoe," has gained tremendous popularity in recent years, with its story becoming more widely known and followed. In the Victorian Era, brides began to place a sixpence in the heel of the left wedding slipper to ensure wealth and good fortune to newlywed couple.

Toasting tips for wedding guests

No wedding party is ever complete without the traditional toast to the bride and groom.

Unfortunately, many of us are not the best public speakers. If hundreds of eyes should fall upon you for words of wisdom and congratulations, don't "uuummm... aaahhh..." your way through the special moment.

Champagne toasts are cherished highlights and definitely merit special thought. According to the experts, a toast is the perfect opportunity to express thoughtful sentiments that all too often go unsaid.

Following are several toasts to present your message loud and clear and, most importantly, from the heart:

- Think about what makes the bride and groom so special as individuals and as a couple;

- If you could make one wish of happiness for the couple, what would it be?

- Speak to other friends and relatives of the couple, get their input;

- Think about what the main message of your toast should be (love, commitment, relationships, etc.);

- Keep your message brief. It should not take an hour to express your sentiments—one to three minutes should be sufficient;

- Touch on a specific experience you have shared with the couple;

- Practice reciting the toast several times before the big day.

If you heed these few simple tips, toasting the newlyweds should be a joyful and memorable experience for all to the guests. Remember a toast should always end on an optimistic note.

Tales of wedding origins, labors of love and more

The labors of love and its consequences are among our most ancient and cherished traditions. Few occasions in our lives today reach as far back into the past as the customs of marriage. They had their origins in the religions, folklore and superstitions of many peoples through the world, and it is from these ancient traditions that our own evolved.

The wedding ring

The very symbol of marriage, the ring, has perhaps the most charming background of all wedding customs. The Anglo-Saxons were the first to use a ring as a pledge for the future in the betrothal of very young children. The bridegroom-to-be would place a ring on the maiden's right hand while giving his pledge, and she would then wear it for all to see. Later, during the marriage ceremony, it would be transferred to her left hand, when the bridegroom symbolically slipped it on each of her fingers, naming as he did the Holy Trinity with an "Amen" for the fourth finger.

The third finger of the left hand was selected as the ring finger in the belief that a vein in that finger ran directly to the heart. For this reason, and also because it was the most-protected and least-used finger, it became the traditional ring finger.

The bridal veil

Today's lovely silk illusion veils evolved from a series of ancient Oriental customs. In Far Eastern countries, people believed that wicked spirits were especially attracted to women. So, as protection from the Evil Eye, women always wore veils. The custom continued, although its meaning changed, until it gradually became a symbol of modesty and obedience. From this, the veil came to represent chastity and later was accepted as a sign of the submission of women.

Returning crusaders were responsible for the introduction of the veil into Europe. According to early Christian tradition, the groom would bargain for the bride with her father. Bargaining took place while she was swathed in a bridal veil, and the groom didn't even see her until after the ceremony!

Each era has had a different style for the bridal veil. Early Christians placed a large cloth over both the bride and groom. Around 1500 in Europe, there was a fashionable conical headdress topped with a veil that hung to the toes. Today's bride prefers a transparent one that does not totally conceal her face.

The wedding cake

Cake (or a baked dough product of some kind) has always been an important part of the wedding feast. In fact, this custom is so ancient and widespread that its origin has been difficult to trace. It is known that among Fiji Islanders and certain American Indian tribes, a bride offered her husband a cake of meal. The Romans broke cakes made of salted meal over the bride's head as a symbol of abundance. A number of cultures, it seems, customarily dropped wheat flour or cake upon the bride's head, then ate these offerings for good luck.

The early Britons baked large baskets of small, dry crackers for weddings, and every guest took one home—thus the tradition of taking wedding cake home to "dream on." These small cakes gradually increased in size and richness, and so, the story is told, a French chef in London finally had the idea of icing the mass of cakes together. His efforts, during the reign of Charles II, marked the beginning of the elaborate, highly ornamented wedding cake we know today.

The best man

Hundreds of years ago in Scotland, when a man wanted to take a wife, he simply kidnapped her. Since the young lady's family was expected to object with a show of force, the prospective bridegroom took the necessary steps to protect himself. He would need not only courage, but manpower, so for this, he selected friends to accompany him before and during the wedding ceremony. The best and bravest of his friends eventually became known as "best man" at the wedding. A similar practice was observed in Scandinavian countries, but they never abducted just any girl. They stole only girls who were to be married to someone else! They would wait until she had been decked out in her finery, loaded down with all the gifts, and was on her way to the ceremony. Assured that she was wholly desirable by the original groom, a predatory young man and his friends would try to attack the wedding procession. The bride was then stoutly defending by the authentic groom and his "best man."

Trousseau

The trousseau can be directly traced to the barter, purchase and dowry system. It was customary for a bride to come to the marriage well provided with a dowry to compensate the husband for his expenses in caring for the children of his wife's lineage. According to current custom, it is not essential that the bride bring to her husband money or land, but she is usually provided with a good supply of personal clothing, household linens, silver, china and other domestic items prior to marriage—much of it given at showers and as wedding presents.

Flowers

Throughout history, most marriage celebrations, whether pagan or Christian, have used flowers in some way. Almost every country has its own traditions and symbolism concerning flowers.

Popular traditional customs associated orange blossoms most closely with the wedding ceremony. A wreath of orange blossoms worn as a crown over the bridal veil was a Saracen custom introduced by returning Crusaders. However, fresh blossoms were so expensive that only the wealthy could afford them and poorer brides were forced to resort to artificial ones. In Elizabethan England, a "kissing knot" of croton leaves and rosemary was hung over the bridal couple. Swedes believed that chives, garlic or rosemary were necessary in the bride's bouquet to keep dwarfs from bothering her on her wedding day. In Poland, it was believed that sugar sprinkled on the bride's bouquet would keep her temper sweet.

Following is a list of flowers and the meanings that have come to be associated with them: Apple or quince blossoms—better things to come; clematis—love vine; ivy—good luck; rosebud—a promise; myrtle—love's flower; laurel—peace; tulips—infidelity; yellow flowers of any kind—jealousy.

Choosing right makeup for radiantly beautiful brides

Congratulations—you're getting married and you've planned the world's most perfect wedding! Now's the time to prepare for an important aspect of the big day, your own radiant and memorable look. After all, the centerpiece of every wedding is the beautiful, fresh-faced, natural bride.

With your wedding around the corner, there's no time like the present to get started. Remember not to stray too far from your own special look—you want them to remember you, not your makeup! Here are some helpful tips:

- Practice makes perfect: Bridal beauty, like every other facet of your wedding, is a matter of careful planning. Start now to experiment with different makeup looks, remembering that every eye (and camera) will be focused on you that day.

Strive for a look that complements the overall concept you've chosen for your wedding. If the theme is romantic and frilly, your makeup should be soft and very feminine. If yours is a more streamlined, sophisticated wedding, try for a more glamorous look.

- Start with foundation: Shade and formula are equally important. A translucent, water-based foundation with aloe vera is ideal because it evens your skin tone beautifully but feels lighter than air. Be sure to match your foundation to your face and neck—not your hand or arm. Blend with long, even strokes, using a slightly dampened sponge wedge, and with a light dusting of face powder to set the makeup and help it last.

- Water, water everywhere: If being happy makes you cry, you can bet you'll shed a bucket of tears on this day. That's why it's important to wear a waterproof eyeliner and mascara. A dual-purpose waterproof pencil that works as both an eyeliner and brown pencil can be just the ticket. Choose one that's specially designed to match hair color for a more natural, finished appearance.

Complete the look with a lash extending waterproof mascara in a complementary shade, for the prettiest, driest lashes that last even through tears of joy.

- Color selection made easy: Confused about the shades to choose for eye-shadow and cheek color? No need to be. Cosmetic counters offer a professional color match system, divided into three color categories: Warm, cool and neutral. You can easily determine your color type with a color match interactive device. Hint: You are either a "warm" or a "cool"—neutral shades work well on everyone.

- Lasting lip color: Beautiful lips are certainly necessary on your wedding day, and it's a good idea to select a lip color that lasts. This is one occasion when you won't have too many opportunities for touch-ups. A powder-and-gloss combination works well for long-lasting color, even after you've kissed your groom and sipped champagne.

- Nail perfection: Beautiful, well-groomed nails complement your over-all appearance.

Since you can't run out for a manicure half-way through the reception, do the next best thing: Apply an anti-chip protecting topcoat to keep your polish looking fresh and just-applied from the moment you walk down the aisle until you say good night!

A final word of advice: Make sure your makeup is appropriate for the quality of light where you'll be saying your vows. If it's an outdoor wedding, you'll want a look that works in natural light; for evening, you should select makeup shades that are appropriate for subdued artificial light. On this of all days, radiance and a natural, fresh look are what you should strive for. So stay cool and calm and most of all...enjoy yourself!

Picking the perfect flowers

The hardest thing about choosing floral arrangements is deciding between all of the different varieties available. The following tips should make the decisions easier.

- Start shopping for a florist four to six months before your wedding.

- Ask florists you're considering to show you photos of the weddings they've done in the past.

- Consider the overall style of your wedding when choosing arrangements. Freestanding sprays of daisies or chrysanthemums are nice for the altar.

- Small arrangements are often used to encircle candle holders. Some options are baby's breath or tea roses. Small bouquets tied with ribbon dress up aisle seats.

- Florists should be asked if they supply the white aisle runner that is unrolled before the bride enters.

- The bridal bouquet should be the star of the show containing flowers in colors matching the bridesmaids' dresses mixed with traditional whites.

- Bridesmaids' flowers should be similar to yours but less elaborate. Consider a wreath of flowers or blossom son combs for their hair. The flowers should match their dresses as well.

- A basket of rose petals or a tiny bouquet is perfect for the flower girl.

- The groom's boutonniere should be a flower contained in your bouquet, and it should be similar to the ushers' but more elaborate.

- Dads, ushers and special male guests should wear flowers matching the bridesmaids' dresses or traditional white or ivory.

- Order corsages for the mothers of the bride and groom as well as other honored female guests. Keep the colors of their dresses in mind as much as possible when ordering.

- Centerpieces for the tables should fit in with the style and color of the other arrangements. Keep these arrangements low enough or well above eye level to ensure they do not interfere with conversation.

- The florist can make an extra bouquet for you to toss if you choose to keep your bouquet.

Shopping for a wedding dress of your dreams

It's easiest to start shopping for your wedding dress once you have chosen the type of wedding you would like to have. The first step is to look through bridal magazines and catalogs to get a good idea of what is available. Next, make a list of department stores and bridal shops recommended by friends or family. You should also set a budget. The average cost of a wedding dress ranges from $700 to $800. You can, however, find dresses as low as $300 or as high as $5,000 or more. It's a decision to be left up to you and your budget.

Starting the search

Most wedding dresses are custom ordered. This process can require several months, so most shops suggest that you order your dress no less than 16 weeks before your wedding. Some dresses can be obtained sooner if you don't have that much time; the processing time depends on the manufacturer's production schedule.

Avoiding costly alterations

Your bridal fashion consultant should use a vinyl tape measure to get measurements of your bust, waist, hips and from the base of your throat to the hemline. Each manufacturer has a unique sizing chart which the consultant should show you. Select the size that comes closest to matching your measurements. You can always take in the dress, but you cannot enlarge it. It isn't necessary to order two sizes up—alterations will be more expensive if you do. You should determine the size you need by using your measurements and the sizing chart. Then be sure that size is indicated on the sales receipt.

proved resource for the dress. Some stores will take your order and deliver a copy rather than the actual dress you have selected.

• Inquire about the store's alteration policy.

Hints to make shopping easier

- Take the magazine or catalog page with you to the bridal shop. Note the magazine name and issue to make ordering easier.

Planning wedding photos? Hire a professional photographer

The planning of your wedding photo album is very important. Hiring a professional photographer who specializes in weddings is the only way to get professional-quality photos.

Start looking for a photographer as soon as you can—preferably six months before your wedding. Friends and family can give referrals on local photographers who do quality work. When you've narrowed down your choices, use work samples from others' weddings to help you make the final selection. Look for sharp, clear pictures with flattering lighting and nice composition. Make sure you meet with the actual photographer who will be shooting your wedding.

Many studios have several photographers who specialize in weddings.

The photographer should shoot a formal portrait for your newspaper announcement. Most newspapers require the photo to be in black-and-white, and you'll also want a color photo for you and your family. Decide, with the photographer, what type of pictures you'd like for your album. Formal and posed, candid and lively or a mixture. You should also review the important traditional moments you want the photographer to shoot as well. Keep a running list and add shots as they come to mind.

Some photographers offer special packages that include the prints and the charge for their shooting time in one price. Others charge separately for these and allow you to purchase prints and albums separately. Most photographers will request a deposit—from one-third to one-half of the total when you sign the contract. Make sure the contract includes the name of the photographer, times and places he or she will be shooting, total charge, delivery date, who owns the negatives and what will happen if you need to change the date or cancel.

Videotape captures memories

Videotaping your wedding is an excellent way to capture all of the fun and excitement of your special day. The following tips will help to ensure that your wedding videotape is everything you hope it will be. It all starts with finding the right videographer.

The best way to find the perfect videographer is to ask for recommendations. Who taped your brother's wedding? Was he happy with the final tape? Another source of information is your church. Ask if they have any suggestions or any names of videographers that have been used successfully in the past. Your photographer may also be able to give you names of people he has worked with at other weddings.

If this search proves unsuccessful, turn to the Yellow Pages and start making calls. You should be looking for a professional videographer who specializes in weddings.

Ask for sample tapes of weddings they have taped in the past. Check the tapes for color, camera movements and audio quality. Ask about their equipment capability. For example, do their cameras work well in low-light situations?

It is important that you both feel comfortable with the videographer and that you establish a relationship that allows for flexibility and creativity. Meet with them prior to the wedding and go over the wedding details and any important details.

A good videographer should attend the rehearsal dinner. This is the only way to determine the placement of all attendants, singers, readers and musicians. It is the best time to decide the proper placement of the cameras.

You should also ask the videographer about his or her editing skills. Editing allows the insertion of additional video, titles and the correction of mistakes. Editing can greatly enhance the quality of your videotape.

Production costs

Prices can vary from about $150 to thousands of dollars. There are one- and two-camera packages available that include all the major wedding events, or you can choose the more expensive version with weeks of taping and special effects editing. Prices can also vary depending on where you live and how many videographers are available in your area.

Making your tape unique

There are several things that can be done to personalize your videotape. A collage of pictures of the bride and groom as children makes an excellent beginning, and families and close friends can give testimonials to the couple as well.

Storing the tape

You should always rewind the tape and store it in a cool, dry place where it is not subject to temperature extremes. Keep it dust-free by placing it in a cardboard sleeve or case. Try to hire a videographer who keeps master tapes of all weddings in case your tape is ever lost, stolen or erased. If this isn't possible, buy an extra tape and store it in a safe place.

By using a videographer, you will capture the special events of your wedding on film, to be cherished for years to come.

honeymoon arrangements once the destination and travel plans have been decided.

Pet Of The Week

Pepper

Put some spice in your life

Pepper is a beautiful 18 month old female short hair cat. This special cat deserves a special home, as she raised her own litter of kittens at Orphans, and then nurtured, fed and loved several motherless orphaned kittens that came into the shelter!

Pepper is slim, sleek, and so shiny black she reflects blue in her coat. Petite and with large gold eyes. Pepper is unusually affectionate and "dog-like" in her attentive responsiveness. She comes running whenever you call her and is ever eager to cuddle and play. So "put a little spice in your life" and open your heart to a cat who has opened her heart for so many! (Collar E15).

Pepper can be adopted for a cash donation of $40 which includes free spay, collar, two weeks medical care, free FELV test, first shots and more.

Orphans of the Storm is located at 2200 Riverwoods Rd., Deerfield. Hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., seven days a week. Call (708)945-0235.

Pet of the Week column has been receiving excellent responses. Oreo, the black and white cat who ran in the June 25 edition, has been adopted.

Sit-in goes up in smoke

Whether it turned out to be a joke or the genuine item, Fox Lake police were ready for a July 4 sit-in demonstration at Grant High School supporting the legalization of marijuana.

Someone had distributed flyers advertising the noon sit-in, but when the time came, not a smoker, joker nor midnight toker was to be found.

"We had a paddy wagon there and everything," said a somewhat amused Police Chief Ron Nagel.

Lt. Jim Busch said it appeared each flyer was handmade with colored pencils, and called the populace to "buy it, sell it, share it."

just good at memorizing definitions. So for the people who don't think that the best beauty was crowned, I suggest that you get the knowledge it takes to judge a pageant before you starting crowning contestants. I think these judges made the best decision for crowning the queen. Thank you.

Boys of summer

Okay, I'd like to know how all you White Sox fans feel now that the Cubs have a better record than the White Sox?

Wonderful dog catcher

I live in Antioch and I would like to say thank you to the lady who returned my collie down Bluff Lake Road. That someone could take the time and bring her back to us was great. Our dog was afraid of the fireworks over the Fourth of July and took off on us. She was about a mile away from home and someone took the time to bring her back to us. I would like to say thank you to her, because I do not know where she lives and she didn't leave a name and number. Thank you so much for returning her to us.

Parks vs. schools

Hello. I would like to know when they are going to straighten out the school system in Round Lake and Round Lake Beach. There is too much over-building in this area and not enough money given to the schools. So much of it has been put into the park system. The park system is a very good thing, but what about the education and future of our children? When are they going to start better zoning laws? Thank you.

Highway gas station robbery

Finally, someplace to vent my anger about [a gas station] in Libertyville. I am a 70-year-old woman and although I usually try to pump my own gas, I needed to check my oil. So I went into the full service lane. They charged me 80 cents per gallon over the self service price. It cost me $25 for ten gallons of gas and to have my oil checked. That was $8 just for the privilege of that service. Such highway robbery should not be allowed. No wonder they don't publish the full service prices on their signs. I think I was taken. Gurnee.

Pageants deserve applause

Hi, I just wanted to say that Antioch's Little Miss and Miss pageants were fantastic. I am a newcomer to the area and basically went to be nosey and to get better acquainted with the new local. Needless to say, I will be there next year with bells on. I now know that Antioch is a great town with great people. Bye.

New subscriber

Hello. I recently re-subscribed to the Antioch News-Reporter after canceling over a year ago. The reason that I canceled is that there was not enough news about Antioch in it. The Waukegan News Sun had much more stories in it than the News-Reporter, so I decided to subscribe to it. Recently I re-subscribed to the Antioch News-Reporter and one reason was because of Lipservice. Thanks.

Caller was all wet about fire dept.

Round Lake is proud of excellent experience and dedicated members of their fire department. Firefighters often risk their lives to help the community. We seldom hear about the risks they take because of too much news coverage about unscrupulous, boring and useless politicians. A Lipservice caller unjustly accused the Round Lake Fire Department of sexual harassment of his wife who was a member. If that allegation was correct, then why did she wait so long and not report it. Anyone with only a half amount of intelligence can understand that she is apparently a troublemaker and a liar. I know that several Round Lake firefighters have said that she is a troublemaker and a liar. I forgot to ask her name. I wonder if it could be Anita Hill? Gages Lake.

New people, more taxes

I have lived in Antioch for 15 years. And I wonder when the citizens are going to start challenging the special interest groups and self-serving people that are now serving on the village board? People come to Antioch for the wide open spaces and the county-like charm. Now we get development and guess who gets to pay for this? All new developments need all these new skills that come on. New services like schools, fire departments and police. And who gets to pay for it, people like you and me. More traffic congestion and sky high taxes. That's what we end up getting.

Care about fellow man

Yes, I am calling because I am greatly concerned about the lack of caring that have developed within the community both locally and nationally for one's fellow man. That lack of caring is shown in our concern for taxes only and the lack of concern about people who need the services such as counseling, services for children, poor people who need services, our schools. We talk about family values, well I think that our community needs to look at supporting our families that need help. It is a sad time in our country these days when we are only concerned about our own pocketbooks. This has happened on the national scene and, in particular, in Libertyville where we are only concerned about our own little lives. All religions talk about caring for your fellow man. Thank you very much.

Religion packing up in Zion

The objections and rabid tenacities of the atheist group is quite confusing to me. The more that they organize and protest, the more they portray themselves as religious fanatics. It will be interesting to see how Zion is able to remove all of the so-called offending religious symbols without spending anymore money.

Slow down, and wait at light

It is obvious that the person that spoke out against the left turn only lights on north and south bound 12 and the intersection of 134 needs to slow down his or her lifestyle. The 60 seconds or less that it takes to complete the signal cycle is a small enough time waiting when you compare it to the hospital time required when a speeding car or truck on 12 ignores your attempt to cross against the light. You did not state your town, but I am sure that everyone will recognize you as the car that is half way between the intersection and turns against the light.

4th celebration great

July Fourth entertainment at the Fort Hill Heritage Center in Mundelein was excellent. King Ferdinand, Queen Isabella, Columbus and Uncle Sam were enjoyable aspects. The exhibits were very interesting. Praise to them for all of their hard work. It is much appreciated. (Continued on page 43)

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: A little over 2 weeks ago, I was scheduled for an interview for which I was 35 minutes late due to heavy traffic conditions. Once I had finally arrived, I let the receptionist know I was there and shortly thereafter another individual came out to inform me that the person I was to be meeting with no longer had time to fit me in his schedule. I felt this was a bit rude seeing I had come such a long distance. To this date I have never received a telephone call from the company to reschedule the interview. R.K.

A: First of all, to be honest, the only telephone call involved here should have been from you, apologizing for being late to the interview. Being on time for an interview is a very important first impression. Perhaps the interviewer would not see you for reasons that it would further disrupt his schedule for the day. Another possibility is that when you never called and didn't show up at a reasonable time he may have felt you weren't going to show and went on to other things. And, of course, let us not leave out the possibility that the man may have been a stickler for punctuality. In any case, to avoid this in the future, may I recommend that before an interview, take a trial run to the location, allowing additional time for traffic jams and such. It is better to be 20 minutes early for an interview than 20 minutes late. If you are running late, pull over and make a telephone call to the person you are to meet with. Explain the circumstances. Hopefully they will understand and if they do, don't forget to apologize again for being late and thank them for waiting for you.

Q: Could you please settle an argument for me? I was scheduled for an interview at 10:00 A.M. I showed up on time and was told by the receptionist that the person I was to meet with was on a conference call and was running 15-20 minutes late and would I mind waiting. After 20 minutes passed I became irritated and asked the receptionist to check with him again. She came back and said he would be another 5 minutes or so. When 45 minutes rolled around, the receptionist got up for a break and I left. Was I wrong? M.L.

A: I guess it depends on how bad you wanted that job. I am not saying that the interviewer was right for keeping you waiting. It may have helped for you to ask if the interviewer needed to reschedule. At least you may have stood a chance if you had offered to come back at a better time. Truth is getting up and leaving without saying a word was unprofessional and definitely closed the book on that story.

Short and sweet

I just wanted to say that I enjoy every article in Lipservice. Thanks for the idea.

Land that I love

Aren't the parents of today teaching their children patriotism? At Antioch's beautiful Centennial Parade, my husband and I and maybe one or two other people were the only ones who stood up, put their hands over their hearts, and saluted the American Flag, our pride and joy. It is a shame that children do not recognize that this is what they are supposed to do. And it is the parent's fault if they don't teach them. Also, what we need here in Antioch is a big K-mart or Venture store. There is no place that you can buy dresses at reasonable prices. Shoes, you have to go to K-mart or Venture in Round Lake or Gurnee. Why not support our own town by trying to convince them to build a store here for us. Thank you. Antioch.

Disgusted and fed-up

Hi. I am just calling to let you people know that you have a very serious problem at your newspaper. I read the Round Lake News and have never seen a more mediocre display of journalism. I read several articles and have never seen so many typographical errors, misspelling, and omitted words. I don't know who proofreads or type sets for you people, but I would have a serious talk with them about doing their job. I, for one, will never subscribe to a paper that is a comedy of errors. If your paper has any intention of competing with other major papers, I would seriously suggest someone to sit down and reading some of your own articles and look at some of the mistakes that are in there. I really enjoy reading the paper. I really do. I get it every week. But, I am quickly disgusted when I come across the errors. Have someone get off their duff and print the articles the way that they should be read. Thanks.

I can't drive 55

I live on Bluff Lake and I think that it is about time to put an end to these speeding boats on the Chain O' Lakes. Or are we going to wait until we have a tragic accident on the water. Cars have speed limits, why not boats? Thank you.

Fireworks were terrific

Hi, I live in Antioch and would like to thank everyone who helped on the Centennial week. It was a great week and they had something for everyone. Our family really enjoyed the events that we attended. And the fireworks that were accompanied by the Lakes Area Orchestra were terrific. Thank you, Antioch!

Wanna buy a car?

Hello, I am calling from Libertyville. Waukegan has the dubious reputation of attracting young naval recruits to their infamous used car lots. These navy personnel are slick-talked by these nefarious looking salesmen into buying inferior, over-priced pieces of machinery. With no one to go to for help, little is done to appease the loss of their hard earned money. With numerous complaints on file with the Better Business Bureau, they continue to do business targeting young persons and enticing them with so-called deals, hiding for them the fact that the interest rates may range up to 28 percent. Recently, my 18-year-old son became one of their latest victims. Thank you very much.

Beyer over baseball

Yeah, Libertyville and Antioch threw a great parade. Round Lake Beach throws the worst parade ever. Who wants to see a whole bunch of kids in the back of a truck throwing water balloons and stale candy? I would rather have Charlene Beyer do my parade any day. Boy, that woman is terrific. She has really got things on the ball. She is a patriotic woman and all my friends, we just support and love her. Char, we just want you to know how wonderful you are. That Round Lake Parade should have been yours. I was at a parade two years ago with the kids in the Little League, and got hit with a water balloon from the kids in the parade. Nobody said anything. I think it is the stupidest parade. They can blend that parade with the other kids. Put some other exciting things in the parade. Beyer, I hope that you gets things your way next year, because you know how to throw a parade. Let's hear three cheers for Beyer. Hip hip hurrah! Hip hip hurrah! Hip hip Hurrah! Round Lake Beach.

The challenge to youth

Yeah, well I just had a question for the paper. Why is there a drinking age? Is it to give people like us who are underage a challenge? Make us figure out how to get it? I know that you can't answer me now, but answer me through the paper. Okay? Thanks a lot. I appreciate it.

Here's to Health

Summer brings us sunshine, heat, insects, and allergies, but we still love summertime, don't we? Let's enjoy all of the good, but take some precautions with those potential disasters. Keep this article handy, and perhaps you'll benefit from using a hint or two.

Anaphylactic shock is an allergic reaction to bee-stings. It can be life-threatening. Always check open cans of soda for bees before you bring it to your mouth. Do not wear brightly colored clothing. Bees are attracted to bright flowers, and they might think that you are one! Hair spray, gels, and perfumes should also be avoided.

Wasps, hornets and yellow jackets appear at different times of the season, but it's best to beware at all times. For instance, yellow jackets like to be in wood-piles, in late summer. For any type of sting, apply ice to the area. This will slow absorption of the venom. If it's all right with your doctor, take antihistamine.

The correct way to take out a stinger is to use a fingernail, a nail file, or a knife blade to flick it out. Using a tweezer or squeezing the stinger will just inject more venom. Did you know that a paste made from meat tenderizer is great on bites and stings? Keep it handy—it really works. Of course, if you know that you are sensitive to stings, you should carry a special kit with you at all times. Check with your doctor.

Keeping your summer remedies in one spot would be helpful for your whole family. You could keep everything in a plastic pail, or even a shoebox! Don't forget the antihistamines, and meat tenderizer. Add to it, baking soda.

There are so many uses for such a basic product, that it could be a column in itself! Make a paste of it for bites, stings, and rashes. Put it in the bathtub for a refreshing bath, cooling down sunburn and rashes. Another item for the container is an ice bag. When you need it quickly, you don't want to go searching.

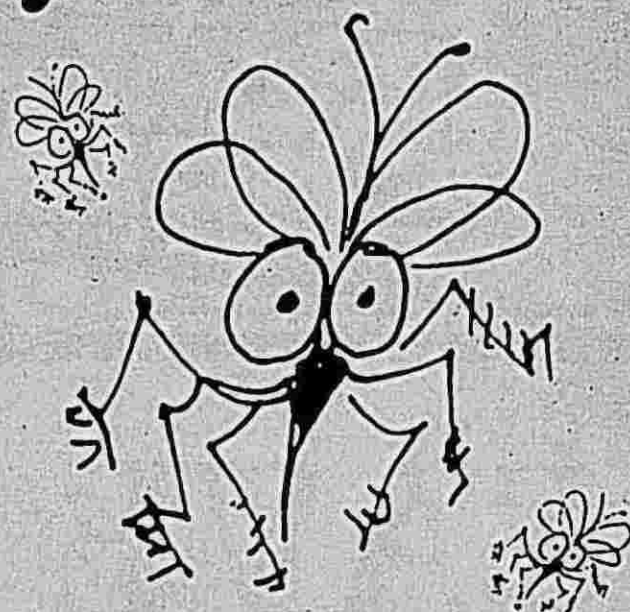

Keep your aloe plant close by. It's excellent to soothe sunburn, stings, bites, and even poison ivy and oak. You probably know that you must be careful when applying anything to rashes, as you can spread it to other areas. Wash your hands thoroughly after touching a sensitive area.

Vitamin E capsules can be broken, and the oil placed on burns. Remember, Vitamin E also contributes to eliminating scars. The capsules fit easily into a small container! There are those who swear by putting apple cider vinegar on sunburns and stings. You might want to keep a small bottle in the refrigerator, for an extra cooling effect. A good way to keep mosquitoes away is to watch your diet before exposure to the little creatures.

Eating fresh fruit attracts mosquitoes. Stay away from bananas, particularly. Your pores give off an invitation to dinner! If you're used to feeding the birds, cut down on your generosity at this time. If they don't have as much food from you, they'll go 'hunting' for bugs, and will eat many mosquitoes.

There is a popular bath and lotion product that doubles as an insect repellent, and relief from bites. I cannot give the brand name, but you can find out by writing to me. I do not endorse commercial aerosol products that use propellants and poisons that add to the pollution of planet Earth. You can also take B vitamins. Your skin gives off an odor through your pores that seems to repel gnats and mosquitoes. Are you using a 'bug light' instead of a regular bulb outdoors? Get one! Enjoy the summer! I'll have more tips for you soon.—by MARLENE BROWN

Panel frowns on concept of business-home combo

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Gurnee's Plan Commission is sending an unfavorable recommendation to the village board regarding a businessman's request to live in the same lot as his business.

Tim Bigelow, 4170 Grand Ave., is seeking a special use permit to allow him to live in a two-bedroom apartment structure at the same lot as his insurance firm. The plan commission vote was 4-0 against. Dan Robison, a plan commission member, did not vote because he is an architect representing Bigelow. Member Ken Hellstern was not at the meeting and the board is short one position.

"The board acted responsibly," Chuck Elson said. "I think there are other buildings like this. We don't need this problem in our backyard. It is a bad idea."

"The structure is strictly unsound to the point where they were going to tear it down," Joanne Elson said.

"I would like to see the building stay owner-occupied," resident Joann Kristan said.

The plan commission members echoed a similar view.

Bigelow, who was asking for a permit to allow owner-proprietor housing, said he would likely move in about two years.

"It is quite common in Chicago to have an apartment above a business, but I do not know if this is what was in mind when the village center area was created," chairman Don Rudny said.

Another matter was parking. Village regulations require 10 spots for the village center area, but the plan only had nine.

Robison said the building was previously used as an apartment. Improvements would include a new deck and handicapped access ramp.

Robison said he liked the "coachhouse" style. The property is next to a funeral home, single family residential to the south, an alley and Brown Circle to the north.

"We could get into a Catch 22 situation with six or eight of these," plan commission member Carl Cepon said.

Teen will face Sept. 8 trial in murder case

It will be just past Labor Day when William Carlson will begin to face a murder trial in an almost two-year-old case involving the death of his parents. Lake County Circuit Judge Raymond McCoski set Sep. 8 as the date to begin the trial.

Lake County Asst. States Atty. Jeff Pavletic said prosecutors will be bringing in Canadian witnesses. Robert Hauser, Carlson's defense attorney, may do the same.

Carlson has been in custody since his arrest following the Oct. 24, 1990 slayings. Last month, he was ruled fit to stand trial.

Carlson is charged with murder of his father, Paul, age 35 and mother Sandra, age 41, in their Wildwood home. He is also accused of having sex with his mother's dead body.

a hazardous situation," Wunderle said.

In another matter, Wunderle brought up the subject of fire lanes. Police department personnel and village attorney Earl Hoover will be reviewing ordinances from Libertyville, Antioch and Fox Lake regarding no-parking fire lanes.

Also, the length of time it takes to turn left from Center St. to Rte. 45 in Wildwood was discussed as well as a lower speed limit along Lake St. near Lexington Homes' development.

Legion alumni learn tips from today's counterparts

Without all that much imagination, it could be the season of 1981 all over again.

There was Dave McWhorter taking the mound to start the baseball game at Libertyville High School. Keith Brown was at his familiar position at shortstop, fielding grounders with a touch of grace.

His brother Scott was in his familiar catcher's position, calling the pitches for McWhorter.

A quick rub of one's eyes this Saturday afternoon would reveal that this was 1992. The Legion team was wearing the regulation uniforms, sitting in the third-base dugout. So, who were these baseball players from a 19-9 season and later? The Walter Johnson sports complex had been built for several years — there is the 1976 state runner-up sign still proudly hanging over the scoreboard before they were in high school and well-used in the decade since.

These ex-Wildcats came to test the young arms of 18-year-olds, maybe to teach them a thing or two while they still had visions of the majors dancing in their heads. Chalk up one in a big way for the young arms, which shut out the Legion alumni 12-0.

"It was great; we still wanted to win," Keith Brown said.

Keith had one of the better games for the alumni, with a single to erase any thoughts of a no-hitter and a couple of early-1980s plays in the field.

The crowd at LHS was not like those when the alumni were playing under the watchful eye of Coach Jim Panther. The crowd was limited to a few wives, sweethearts and even a couple of toddlers — one of which was bound and determined to try a batting helmet on.

Legion Coach John Ahlgrim put together the game and even was on the alumni's side. Ahlgrim said he hopes to make the fun contest an annual event.

Barrington High has had a similar game for the high school alumni.

"We're just happy to survive. We're glad he asked us," Scott Brown said.

"Let's not rub this in too much — they'll be in Hainesville before too long," he said as he went back to the dugout.

He was referring to Softball City in Hainesville, where the alumni play for the Downings team in the Class "C" league.

The alumni team consisted of such formerly familiar faces as: Greg and Jeff Truskowski, class of '83 and '81, respectively; Larry and Dave Kahan, Mark Moore, class of '84.

"It helps us get back out. It would have been perfect if Panther had been coaching third base," Jeff Truskowski said.

As for the winning Libertyville Legion team, the game served a purpose as a break before resuming key Dist. 10 action. Adam Jacobsen, who splits his summer playing time between Legion and the LHS summer league team, was three-for-four with three RBIs. Craig Havlet was two-for-four and Matt Beitzel, the winning pitcher, was one-for-two.

As for the alumni, on Monday, they were back at Softball City, where they don't have to play against 17-year-olds and have won eight-of-nine games.

"We all need a lot of ice," Keith Brown joked.

One-game wonders?

Libertyville Legion baseball team's alumni, all LHS graduates, challenged Libertyville's Legion team to a baseball game. The present Legion team won handily 12-0. Among those playing for the alumni were (not in order): Scott and Keith Brown; Greg and Jeff Truskowski; Larry and Dave Kahan, Dave McWhorter; Scott Prdilla and Mark Moore.

Tournament split suits Vernon legion just Fine

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Sometimes, it is just fine to have a little luck added to skill.

Make that as in Todd Fine.

For the Vernon Legion baseball team's designated hitter continued his hot bat as Vernon gained a split in the four-game tourney with a 9-5 workmanlike victory over Norwood. The win gave Vernon an 9-7-2 record heading to its annual swing through Deeland, Florida.

Fine started the game Sunday by sending a message to the folks on the right-field sideline. He belted a first-inning homer off his former teammates to stake Vernon to a 2-0 lead.

Vernon's lead kept building as the team had a nine-hit attack. Fine added a double in the third and a sacrifice fly in the fourth to account for one-third of the winning team's runs.

Fine is headed to Michigan State.

Perhaps even more important than Fine's hitting was the pitching of Keith Slove.

Slove's baseball career did not exactly start out on stellar notes at Stevenson. "He was cut his freshman year and his sophomore and junior year he pitched about 10 innings each," Vernon Coach Steve Breen said.

Slove had pitched well in relief in an 8-4 loss to Gainesville, Fla. but had not had a good game in an outing a few hours earlier. In fact, he gave up the winning homer as Evansville outlasted Vernon 8-5.

"He should be proud of what he has done. He kept on working — he was the hardest working pitcher I have ever seen in the weight room. After the loss to Evansville, other players would have stayed home pouting," Breen said.

Slove said he prefers the pressure of relief pitching. "I like coming in situations with runners on base," he said.

Slove had a chance to redeem himself in the fifth. A grand slam homer by Norwood's Bob Paschillo trimmed the 7-1 lead to 7-5. The next hitter banged a double off starter Brian Mahler. Slove came in and got the next two batters on flyballs.

Vernon padded its cushion in the sixth as Mahler had an RBI double and Jeff Turnbull and RBI single.

"We are not concerned with scoring runs; it is holding the other team down that is the big question," Breen said.

Such was the case in the loss to Gainesville.

Vernon's defense made sharp plays behind Fine as Chris Piggott made a nice running catch in centerfield and Mark Finn leaped for a catch at shortstop.

This contest was like a timebomb waiting to go off. And it did when Sam Katz turned a 4-2 deficit to a 6-4 lead with a grand slam homer.

Vernon had eight hits, including a two-run homer by Mike McCarty. Piggott added a double.

Vernon's other win was a come-from-behind effort. The home team trailed 3-0 when severe thunderstorms wrecked their havoc in the Lincolnshire area Thursday. Early Saturday morning, Vernon rallied for a 6-3 lead with three in the sixth.

Piggott, Marc Steinberg and Scott Miller all had key hits.

Giving pointers

Coach Vern Paddock gives a pointer to Brandon Hunter. Above, Roy Hilo swings for a triple. Action came in pinto league game of Gurnee Boys baseball league. Youth throughout Lake County are learning basics of baseball in various leagues this summer.

GET PHYSICAL BEFORE GOING BACK TO SCHOOL.

A physical examination is required for children entering kindergarten, fifth and ninth grades. But even if your child is not required to have one, a school readiness physical is a good idea.

School Readiness Physical
$25

Please call 708.872.8982 today to schedule an appointment.

A school readiness physical, performed by a family practice physician at North Point Medical Dental Center, identifies existing as well as potential problems which may affect your child later in life. The physical also includes a family and personal medical history, a discussion on the importance of preventive measures such as exercise and diet, as well as a review of immunization records.

If your family medical history includes a high incidence of heart attacks, coronary artery disease, stroke or elevated cholesterol levels, a blood cholesterol test may be recommended for your child.

Please call North Point Medical Dental Center today to schedule your children's school readiness physicals.

Hart impresses all in win to help CLC cause soon

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

For Round Lake Legion baseball team's Derek Hart, the day was somewhat like another at the baseball office.

After all, there he was - going three-for-four, with two singles, a double, four RBIs and picking up the win in a 7-1 win over Mundelein.

Hart would receive his just desserts after he left the baseball diamond this Wednesday afternoon. College of Lake County Coach Gene Hanson was on hand and before Hart's day was over, he was offered a chance for a spot on next year's College of Lake County baseball team.

"He is just phenomenal. He loves baseball. Every time he hits the mound, he gives 100 percent," Round Lake Coach Glen Jewell said.

Round Lake is at Lake Zurich in a 6 p.m. game July 10.

Hart was undefeated as the Panthers locked up a Northwest Suburban Conference title last spring and was a football standout as well at Round Lake High, is showing this summer he can be quite a force in hitting. His average is in the .400 neighborhood, quite a nice neighborhood to be in at any level.

"I'm glad he has a chance to play. If anyone deserves a chance, he does. It could not happen to a better kid," Jewell said of the CLC opportunity.

Hart allowed just two Mundelein hits as Round Lake improved to 6-3 in the southern division of Dist. 10.

Jewell, a 1985 graduate of Round Lake, said he has dedicated himself to helping Round Lake players go beyond high school ball if they so desire.

While Hart may have had the Wednesday to remember, others contributed to the Round Lake attack as well.

Tom Kristof was three-for-three with two doubles, two RBIs and three runs scored. "He's a kid who will accept any role you give him," Jewell said.

Pat Lejman pitched in relief, and had an RBI double. Round Lake had 12 hits.

Nathan Roberts of Grayslake led the Mundelein effort with a triple.

Comeback victory helps RL Colts forget long trip

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Round Lake's Colt baseball team may not have found a "Field of Dreams" in Iowa, but the squad did show it had the slyness of a cat near Halloween.

The Colts lost five of six games at a Cedar Rapids, Iowa tournament but bounced back in Lake County Colt League action with a 17-12 win over Winthrop Harbor.

"We were in every game but one and we played some good baseball, but the one thing you hope does not happen in a tournament is defensive mistakes and that's what happened. The kids learned a valuable lesson," Round Lake Coach Glen Jewell said.

The six-game tourney in two days left the Round Lake team a bit bewildered when it faced Winthrop Harbor on Monday. "Seven of my starters were on the bench. We had no arms left," Jewell said.

Fortunately, the Round Lake team did have Mitch Levandowski. Levandowski, who made the all-tourney team in Iowa with a nine-for-12 streak, had a hit, a walk and three RBIs.

The win leaves Round Lake with a 14-7 record going into a showdown against league-leading Lake Villa I.

Round Lake was trailing Winthrop Harbor 12-6 after four before it rallied.

Chad Genegels and Rich Camirillo started the inning off innocently enough with a walk and a fielder's choice. Justin Flemming singled, followed by a walk to Levandowski and a two-RBI single by John Daniels. Levandowski then scored on a passed ball, cutting the deficit to 12-9.

Flemming delivered a two-run single in the next inning. Ray Camirillo walked and Levandowski came through g a single for a 13-12 lead.

Round Lake added four more in the sixth as Rich Camirillo had an RBI triple and Bauer a two-RBI hit.

In Iowa, Round Lake lost 6-5 to the Cedar Rapids team, 7-4 to Milwaukee, beat another Cedar Rapids team 6-2 to round out the first day. Then it fell to St. Joseph of Missouri, 9-4; Rockford 8-6 and to a powerful Crystal Lake team, 19-2.

Daniels gained the win.

Round Lake had no trouble with Grayslake, winning 11-1.

Chris Knauf was two-for-three with two runs scored and two RBIs; Mike Severson was two-for-two with three runs scored and three RBIs; Bauer had a hit, a walk, two sacrifices and four RBIs and Dan Borke was two-for-two with two runs scored.

In league games July 10, Lake Villa 2 is at Gurnee, Gurnee 2 is at league-leading Lake Villa I; Winthrop Harbor is at Grayslake; Beach Park is at Round Lake and Mundelein is at Lake Forest. All begin at 6 p.m.

Moulis gains third win, bonus at Speedway race

Racine's Al Atkinson finally had lady luck shine on him as the 1985-87-88 Champion scored a homecoming victory in the 30-lap Coors Late Model Open on Friday, July 3 to highlight Toft Auto Racing's Wilmot Speedway Second Annual "Salute To The Troops" Night at "Wisconsin's Clay Center of Speed."

Pointleader Dave Moulis of Johnsburg scored his third 25-lap winged sprint car feature of the season and in the process also picked up an additional $77 J & L Oil Fast Mover Award Bonus for having also posted fast time on the same night. Mike Hansel of Menasha won his first 10-lap mini-sprint feature of the year at Wilmot.

Mike Frost led the sprint main through its only caution on lap five when Robbi Punzel had a flat tire and elected not to get off the track. On the restart, Frost began to open a noticeable lead with Moulis working his Auto Connection/Fox Lake Harbor/Olson Auto Body Maxim Chassis with a Houge Racing Engine into contention on lap 15. As frost stuck to his low line through the lapped traffic, Moulis shot outside coming out of turn four to overtake the front runner.

Moulis went on to the victory with Frost, Dale Peterson, Frank Filsko and Randy Sippel completing the top five. "I was running the same line as Mike," admitted Moulis, who has now won a total of $2,300 in bonus from J & L Oil as part of his three feature wins. "The traffic worked out just right for me and I decided to go for it. I want to thank all my sponsors, J & L Oil and also Bruce Skidds from Auto Connection who gave me the other half of a $100 bill as an incentive bonus to win a feature. My half has gone through the wash a few times though."

Toft Auto Racing welcomed all military personnel on active duty to the night's events as their guests, admitting them free to the grandstand.

Convenience now asset with new branch court

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Convenience and the courts may have been two "C" words which never have quite gone together.

Long waits in line, nervously waiting the outcome of your case, is the rule in some parts.

But not in Grayslake.

Some six months of planning came to a head when branch three of the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit officially opened its doors this week. County board members and other officials gathered for a ribbon cutting ceremony. A few feet away, one could see the sign for a Canine Specialties store, restaurant and laundromat.

"This branch will be the busiest one that we will have," Chief Judge Charles Scott said.

An estimated 700 to 800 cases a day are expected in the branch court. The branch court is located at Country Faire Shopping Plaza, at Rtes. 45 and 120, Grayslake. The county has been looking at a new site since it was told the Fox Lake branch would not be available.

"Esper Petersen (developer) gave us a great lease. There is ample parking here," Lake County Board Chairman Bob Depke said.

The employees of Lake County Circuit Court Clerk Sally Coffelt's office have been coordinating the moves from Wau-conda and Fox Lake with parts of caseloads from Prairie View and North Chicago as well.

Law enforcement agencies have been writing tickets for the new branch court. These include: Antioch, College of Lake County, Dept. of Conservation, Fox Lake, Grayslake, Hainesville, Hawthorne Woods, Illinois Commerce Commission, Island Lake, Lake Barrington, Lake County Forest Preserve, Lake County Sheriff and County Sheriff T.E.U., Lake County Sheriff Water Patrol, Lakemore and Lake Villa.

Also, Lake Zurich, Lindenhurst, Long Grove, Mundelein, Mundelein Park Dist., North Barrington, rabbies control, Riverwoods, Round Lake, Round Lake Beach, Round Lake Heights, Round Lake Park, Third Lake, Veterans Admin. Hospital, Water Management Agency and Wauconda.

Features in the 1,500 square foot facility include conference rooms and a judge's chambers.

According to statistics provided by the county, there were 109,817 traffic division cases in 1981, and 162,108 last year, a 47.6 percent increase.

The Nineteenth Judicial Circuit has had a presence in the western part of the county with a traffic diversion program. The effort is designed for those who qualify for minor offenses and to keep their cases out of the court system. Completion of the course means the driver's license record will not be affected.

There were 10,029 court referrals and as of June 30, a total of 12,944 cases diverted. Classes are held in Highland Park, Waukegan, Wauconda Twp. Hall, Antioch and the Grayslake Community Room.
